NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Some thirty million American voters went to the polls today in an election that will determine the character of the new deal during the next two years—and to a certain extent re-make the political map of the country during that same period.

Election day found the Democrats re-earning confidence; the Republicans merely hopeful.

Democrats Skittish

The Democrats are confident and mathematically certain of retaining control of both branches of congress, and yet they are slightly skittish over the results of today's balloting. They hope for and anticipate a whacking majority for new deal candidates everywhere. Still they recognize there are certain imponderables in this election factors which have never appeared in any election before, and that realization makes them cautious of too positive commitment.

For one thing, the history of off-year elections is against the party in power. Over a span of 100 years, off-year elections have with one exception gone against the dominant party, and politicians have come to have a wholesome respect for the back-swing of the political pendulum in these mid-term elections.

The Democrats are confident and mathematically certain of retaining control of both branches of congress, and yet there are slight skittishness over the results of today's balloting. They hope for one, anticipate a whacking majority for new deal candidates everywhere. Still they recognize there are certain impediments in this election, factors which have never appeared in any election before, and that realization makes them cautious of too positive commitment.

For one thing, the history of off-year elections is against the party in power. T. S. McAnlis, of 418 Boyles avenue, although 86 years of age, was out early this morning, and was the first voter to enter the precinct on Highland avenue, near Lincoln. He was the first to cast his ballot, performing this duty of citizenship at 7 a.m. Although his health is not as good as it has been, he walked to the polling place before the opening hour. He voted the Republican ticket, he announced enthusiastically.

Election boards should complete their work early tonight. The task of counting the ballots cast locally should not be a difficult one, as there are not so many tabulations to be made.

Pa News is in receipt of a letter from Harry and Kenneth L. Schell, of R. F. D. No. 1, as follows: "While hunting Monday, November 5, about one mile southeast of Weiglestown pond, we saw what we thought was a large chicken hawk, sailing over the woods. It came close enough for a good shot and was killed. Upon investigating, we found it to be a large buzzard, measuring eight and a half feet from wing tip to wing tip. We would like to know if there is any person who knows if buzzards are common around New Castle."

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 6.—Department of Justice agents and state police today launched a search in western Pennsylvania for Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., alleged kidnaper of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, Louisville, Ky., heiress, when it was revealed the suspect held here was not the man for whom a general alarm was broadcast this morning.

The man held here was identified as Adam Petlock, 25, Chicago. He was released with apologies by the authorities and given a police escort to the Connellsburg state hospital where his mother was reported in critical condition.

Meanwhile, Frank Hinerman, driver of a bus on which another man resembling Robinson was seen earlier in the day, said Petlock was not the man who was aboard his bus and whom he reported to authorities. The bus dispatcher at Washington, Pa., told authorities he had warned the driver of a bus bound for Clarksburg, W. Va., to be on the lookout

Of Hazleton Slayings

(International News Service)
MILFORD, Pa., Nov. 6.—A promise to use every power at his command to bring to justice the perpetrators of the Kelayres slayings was made today by Gov. Gifford Pinchot. His statement follows:

"The unspeakable outrage committed near Hazleton must fill every decent citizen with indignation and horror."

Major Adams of the state police with which I got in touch at once, informs me that these killings are the outcome of a long-standing local quarrel. His men have already made several arrests and are searching for the machine guns which are supposed to have been used in the killings.

The state administration and I as governor, will leave nothing whatsoever undone to bring the guilty to justice. I shall make full use of the state police and every other power I have to that end. The people of Pennsylvania want justice and I shall do my best to see that they get it."

ALL OF VOTERS ARE GIVEN BREAKFAST

(International News Service)
(BULLETIN)

NEW ASHFORD, Mass. Nov. 6—Maintaining its record for being the first town in the United States to report a complete vote in the elections, this Berkshires community today showed a Democratic increase by two votes.

Figures in gubernatorial race were:

Bacon (R) 22, Curley (D) 10, Goodwin (Ind.) 1. This compared with the 1932 vote for governor of Youngman (R) 23, Ely (D) 8, Curley gained two votes over Ely's total of 1932, while Bacon lost 1. There were 36 votes cast this year, as against 33 in 1932. The senatorial figures this year were: Walsh (D) 19, Washburn (R) 13. This compared with the 1932 vote for United States Senator: Butler (R) 29; Coolidge (D) 4.

When the polls opened shortly before 6 a. m. about 20 voters, who had come from their homes in outlying sections by automobiles, were already gathered there. When the total electorate had cast ballots at 6:32 a. m., and the count began, it began to rain hard.

Following tabulation of the vote, State Senator Thomas J. Plunkett (R) who is seeking re-election, gave the whole town a breakfast in the schoolhouse.

Dear Pa Newc: Monday of this week a visitor in Gaston park asked me how long I expected the squirrels to stay there as he informed me that the fox and grey squirrels were great roasters. I informed the visitor that the squirrels would stay in the park as long as they were given protection and food. I showed the gentleman squirrels that had been in the park for three years. One grey squirrel that is minus his right forepaw has fed at a feeding station for over two years, and many other squirrels that come and bark for food at feeding time. The squirrel population at Gaston park is growing every year, as well as other wild life that inhabits the park district. A three hundred dollar fine is imposed upon any one who molests them.

(International News Service)

BULLETIN
NEW ASHFORD, Mass., Nov. 6.—Maintaining its record for being the first town in the United States to report a complete vote in the elections, this Berkshire Hills community today showed a Democratic increase by two votes.

Figures in gubernatorial race were:

Bacon (R) 22, Curley (D) 10, Goodwin (Ind.) 1. This compared with the 1932 vote for governor of: Youngman (R) 23, Ely (D) 8. Curly gained two votes over Ely's total of 1932, while Bacon lost 1. There were 36 votes cast this year, as against 33 in 1932. The senatorial figures this year were: Walsh (D) 19, Washburn (R) 13. This compared with the 1932 vote for United States Senator: Butler (R) 29, Coolidge (D) 4.

When the polls opened shortly before 6 a. m., about 20 voters, who had come from their homes in outlying sections by automobiles, were already gathered there. When the total electorate had cast ballots at 6:32 a. m., and the count began, it began to rain hard.

Following tabulation of the vote, State Senator Thomas J. Plunkett (R) who is seeking re-election, gave the whole town a breakfast in the schoolhouse.

Dear Pa News: Monday of this week a visitor in Gaston park asked me how long I expected the squirrels to stay there as he informed me that the fox and grey squirrels were great roarmers. I informed the visitor that the squirrels would stay in the park as long as they were given protection and food. I showed the gentleman squirrels that had been in the park for three years. One grey squirrel that is minus his right forepaw has fed at a feeding station for over two years, and many other squirrels that come and bark for food at feeding time. The squirrel population at Gaston park is growing every year, as well as other wild life that inhabits the park district. A three hundred dollar fine is imposed upon any one who molests them.

HUNT ROBINSON IN PENNSYLVANIA

for the man resembling Robinson. The driver mistook Petlock for the man.

Robinson In Washington
It was revealed at the same time by department of justice men and state police that a man actually believed to be Robinson passed through Washington, Pa., Oct. 29. The trail of this suspect, however, was lost at Pittsburgh.

Believing that the hunted fugitive may still be in the western Pennsylvania area led state police and the federal men to resume their search for the alleged kidnapper.

In his story to police, Petlock told authorities he had gone to Connellsville when his mother was taken to the hospital a fortnight ago. He had started back to Chicago this morning. His brother-in-law drove him as far as Washington where he was to make bus connections. Shortly after his brother-in-law departed, Petlock learned his mother had suddenly suffered a relapse. Unable to get a bus for the Fayette county community, he began hitch-hiking back to Connellsville.

It was when he flagged down the car driven by Cecil O. Northrop that the bus driver on the Clarksburg bus observed him. The detention order was immediately flashed along the route of the National Pike and the hitch-hiker was halted at Brownsville.

Petlock's mother, Mrs. Mary Keberoy, entered the hospital Oct. 26 and was believed recovering from an operation until this morning. Her condition was said to be grave.

The youth was identified as not being Robinson by fingerprints and letters and papers found in his pockets.

Spokesmen for both major parties this morning were claiming they will win by state-wide majorities of 150,000. Some optimists ventured to predict still greater pluralities. President Casts Ballot At Hyde Park Town Hall

Accompanied By First Lady And Mother—Rain Falls Steadily

(International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, an ordinary American citizen, cast his ballot in New York state election in the village town hall today.

Accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, and the wife, the executive crossed the mile from his home to the town hall through a steady rain to vote.

The elder Mrs. Roosevelt was the first to enter one of the green curtained voting machine booths. When she came out, the president and his wife entered the two booths and voted.

After the voting, the president motored back to his comfortable home, and saw newspaper men for a few minutes.

"How did you vote, Mr. President?" was the first jocular query shot at the executive as he talked to reporters.

"How did I vote? Ha, ha," grinned the president.

As a matter of fact the president's vote was no secret. He announced before he left Washington that he intended supporting Governor Herbert Lehman for re-election. Later, it was learned, he also intended to vote for the re-election of Senator Royal S. Copeland.

osky, 28, of McAdoo, and William Forte, 35, of McAdoo Heights, who died in the Hazleton hospital of their wounds.

Two More May Die

Also in the hospital and expected to die were:

Andy Kotitschon, 36, of Loft, and Dominick Perna, 35, of Klayes.

Ten other persons, five of them women, were in the Hazleton hospital with less serious wounds.

Threats to burn and dynamite the Bruno homes were shouted by the crowd of marchers as the dead, dying and wounded were borne away from the wild scene here last night but state police, hurriedly summoned from Harrisburg, held the crowd in check.

Most significant of the Pennsylvania contests from a national standpoint is the hammer and tong fight which today will culminate in the choice of either U. S. Senator David Aiken Reed to succeed himself, or of Joseph F. Guffey.

Reed, the state's senior senator, is the impulsive foe of the new deal and all its works. Guffey, the chief of Pennsylvania's Democracy, has made his bid for the electorate's support purely on the basis of his firm allegiance to the president and his recovery program.

Despite the rock-ribbed Republicanism of the state, a victory for Reed would be regarded as a serious setback to the national administration.

Aside from shattering a precedent which is generations old, the election of Guffey would signify an enormous triumph for the new deal.

Main Conflict Reflected

The Reed-Guffey conflict is reflected all along the line in the contests for other offices.

George H. Earle, the Democratic candidate for governor, has campaigned almost solely on the contention that Pennsylvania needs a Democratic executive to back up the policies and acts of the man in the White House.

Attorney General William A. Schneider, the Republican nominee, has repeated time after time that the president is not an issue in the gubernatorial battle. But, few observers would doubt that a win for his adversary would constitute an endorsement of the new deal.

Spokesmen for both major parties this morning were claiming they will win by state-wide majorities of 150,000. Some optimists ventured to predict still greater pluralities. general riot during which a teacher suffered a broken arm and the school building was partially wrecked ensued when an attempt was made to operate the schools with the rival sets of teachers. State police finally brought order and the schools opened under control of the Bruno faction.

Florilla was the first to fall, his body riddled with machine gun bullets.

Golusky, 28, a husky built football player, apparently caught the full force of the machine gun charge, according to hospital attaches. They reported 21 bullet wounds on the front of his body and another volley in his back. The force of the first charge apparently wheeled him around, they said.

Among the wounded was Mrs. Charles Colenino, a daughter of Florilla, who was shot in the body as she stood on the porch of her home across the street from the house from which it was alleged the machine gun fire was fired.

Police learned from some witnesses that an automobile sped away from the Bruno home while the confused mass of marchers were picking up their victims. It was believed the machine may have held one of the massacre weapons.

Those taken into custody, according to the district attorney's office were:

Joseph Bruno and his wife, son Fred, 27; another son, James, 32, and their daughter, Elveda, 19; Joseph Bruno's nephew, Paul, 26, and his wife. They were taken to the Tamaqua station of the state police.

BUSY MONTH AHEAD FOR FEDERATION

The club season is getting under way with a visit this month, many meetings being scheduled on this month's calendar.

Perhaps the most outstanding club event of November, will be County Day for the Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs, which will take place in Highland U. P. church on November 16. Sessions will open at 10 in the morning, with luncheon at 12:30, and an afternoon meeting at 2.

Nineteen clubs will be represented, a large crowd being expected to attend. There will be speakers of prominence on the day's program who will bring interesting messages of club work.

Nineteen clubs will be represented, a large crowd being expected to attend. There will be speakers of prominence on the day's program who will bring interesting messages of club work.

On November 13, a meeting of the Executive Board of the Federation, will be held at the home of Mrs. D. N. Keast, 302 East Wallace avenue. At this gathering there will be in attendance the presidents of the various clubs, heads of different departments, and elected officers. Mrs. A. P. Treiser, president of the Federation, will preside.

These two meetings precede the opening of the season, proper by the whole southwestern district which will have its district meeting in Pittsburgh, on November 20. Sessions will open at 9:30 in the morning, in the ballroom of the William Penn hotel, under the guidance of Mrs. Richard E. Perry, president of the South western district. Speakers will be the newly elected state officers, and district chairmen will be introduced at this time.

There will be fourteen counties represented at the Pittsburgh meeting, among which will be a large delegation from the Lawrence county club. Mrs. Louis H. Gordon has been named to head the transportation committee.

LEGION AUXILIARY APPOINTS CHAIRMEN

At the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary members, Monday evening in the Legion hall, Mrs. Orville Potter, president, presided and appointed her chairman of committees for the coming year. They are: Rebecca Strong, guard; Mrs. E. J. Suber, Americanization; Mrs. William Fleming, rehabilitation; Mrs. S. Hartman, hospital; and Mrs. C. Swoosey, child welfare.

A complete report of the card party held recently by members, was given by Mrs. Frank Potter. Plans were made for another similar occasion on December 3, with Mrs. Robert Case, chairman, assisted by Mrs. David Cox and Mrs. James Cooper. Refreshments will be provided by Mrs. E. J. Suber, Mrs. R. G. Clark and Mrs. S. Hartman.

On November 22, the Zelienople American Legion Auxiliary will entertain the Four County Council at their quarters, with luncheon being served at noon. The meeting will follow.

At the conclusion of last evening's activities, refreshments were served by Mrs. William Evans, Mrs. D. Cox and Mrs. E. J. Suber.

B. P. W. CLUB HAS GATHERING MONDAY

"Vocational Education" was the subject of a most interesting address delivered before a gathering of Business and Professional Women's club members Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. by Miss Marjorie Rhodes, assistant principal of the New Castle senior high school.

Other features of the evening program which followed dinner were short talks on: "Child Labor" by Edythe Dunlap; "Boy and Girl Scouts," by Mrs. Mary Guy; "Schools in the Depression," by Mrs. Jessie Jenkins, and general vocational education, by Miss Mary Vaydor and Miss Lucile Lutton. Informality and discussion prevailed during the talks.

The emblem committee of the club was instructed to include donations of food supplied for the Margaret L. Henry home when preparing for the annual Christmas party. Miss Isetta Dart made an announcement concerning articles by Dr. C. C. Green which will appear in The News.

An invitation from the Chamber of Commerce to join in the move to aid the Federal Housing Commission was read. The club was invited to attend the meeting which is to be conducted at the Cathedral on November 19.

The evening's program was in charge of the education committee of which Miss Laura Blucher is chairman.

Special guests were Miss Dorothy Buchman of Greenville, Miss Agnes Elvinger and Miss Green of Butler, and Miss Margaret Toepper of New Castle.

STATE OFFICERS TO REPRESENT B. P. W.

Several state officers of the Business and Professional Women's club, among whom are Dr. Mildred Fogelman, of this city, national chairman, and former state president, and Miss Nancy Bechtol, state treasurer, have been invited to a membership dinner to be given by the Pittsburgh club Wednesday evening.

The guest speaker will be Miss Emily R. Kneubuhl, executive secretary of the National Federation B. P. W. clubs, who will talk on the subject, "Are Women Ready for Action?"

Representatives will be present from 13 other clubs in District number 3 of Pennsylvania.

Birthday Event

Phyllis Jean Rodgers was a charming little hostess Saturday afternoon, when she entertained twelve children in honor of her birthday, at her home on Ray street. Games and music enlivened the hours, with prizes awarded to Maxine Lytle, Kathryn Doutt and Ida Mae Ashton.

When time for refreshments came, the children marched to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Charles Stritmatter. The birthday cake was moulded in the shape of a lamb and brought forth many squeals of delight from the children.

The little guest of honor was showered with lovely gifts.

PLEASING PROGRAM AT CURRENT EVENTS '06

Miss Laura Stevenson and Miss Jeanette Pattison shared as guests, with Current Events '06 members, in hearing a pleasing program yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George R. McClelland, on Blue street.

Verses of scripture were quoted in response to roll call, after which there was an interesting discussion of current topics and a parliamentary drill directed by Mrs. T. A. Gilkey. Light refreshments were served during the social period.

The next meeting will be on November 19, at the home of Mrs. J. L. McDonagh, of Norwood avenue.

WOMAN'S CLUB TAKES TRIP THROUGH EUROPE

"Are the governments of the world serious in their wish for peace" was the underlying thought in the interesting talk on "Europe Today" given by E. C. Ramsey, newspaper man and traveler as he spoke Monday afternoon before the members of the Woman's club in the Highland church.

Mrs. Archibald Davis presided over the business meeting, at which time 22 new members were voted into the club and 4 old members reinstated.

The various department heads reported on the activities of the departments and announced programs for the winter, after which Mrs. R. S. Tammie, chairman of the International Relations department, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Ramsey made a colorful picture as he appeared in his Holland costume, red blouse with embroidered collar, full black trousers, astrakhan cap and wooden shoes. He has traveled the past fourteen years in the European countries and Russia as newspaper correspondent and he said truly, he thought the world has gone mad and instead of nations trying to understand each other and promoting peace through this understanding, they are further apart than they were during the days of the world war.

He went on to say that each country wishes peace, but he added their own particular kind of peace, while they go on adding to their armaments and training.

He spoke of various ways in which a friendly understanding can be promoted and some of the things he mentioned are being done, such as economic projects, social projects and athletic contests, such as the Olympic, where the youth of the countries meet in friendly contest.

There are more causes for war at the present time in the European countries than there were in 1914; there is more secret diplomacy and more men under military training than there were at that time.

In urging the women to promote peace he said the nations would have to stop glorifying war and educate the younger people to the horrors of war, to glorify leadership, education and service.

Mr. Ramsey answered many questions for the club women at the adjournment of the meeting.

The next meeting of the club will be November 19, at which time Herbert Clarence White will be the speaker. He will have slides and give a talk on "With the Camera in the Enchanted Empire."

Miss Hazel Kemp provided a most enjoyable evening Saturday for the members of the Kupke Kard club, when she was hostess at her Beckford street home.

Bridge was the principal activity of the occasion and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ernest King and Amos Zeigler. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kemp.

Next Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Amos Zeigler of Adams St., will entertain.

ANNUAL JR. B. P. W. PARTY AT CASTLETON

Despite the downpour of rain Monday evening, it didn't dampen the spirits of the participants at the annual Fall bridge party sponsored by the Junior B. P. W. members in the spacious ball room of The Castleton Hotel.

The occasion was largely attended, and the girls made their entrance to the lobby of the hotel, some in exquisite formal attire, others in smart sport ensembles, all of which lent attractiveness to the scene. Miss Lucille Emery, president of the organization was busily engaged in seeing that each guest was properly taken care of, assisted by her capable committee, headed by Miss Maree Biddle, general chairman. A hundred and eighty guests were present.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, cards were in progress and at the close of the contests a lovely prize was awarded to the one holding high score at each table. Those winning distinction included: Mrs. Helen Boyd, Mrs. Koenig, Mrs. Paul J. Bratsch, Mary Whalen, Elma Houk, Hermia Buxton, Virginia Bray, Mary Nugent Richards, Catherine Hannon, Mrs. Gilbert Cox, Mrs. W. H. B. P. W. CLUB HAS GATHERING MONDAY

"Vocational Education" was the subject of a most interesting address delivered before a gathering of Business and Professional Women's club members Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. by Miss Marjorie Rhodes, assistant principal of the New Castle senior high school.

Other features of the evening program which followed dinner were short talks on: "Child Labor," by Edythe Dunlap; "Boy and Girl Scouts," by Mrs. Mary Guy; "Schools in the Depression," by Miss Jessie Jenkins, and general vocational education, by Miss Vandivort and Miss Lucile Lutton. Informality and discussion prevailed during the talks.

The emblem committee of the club was instructed to include donations of food supplies for the Margaret L. Henry home when preparing for the annual Christmas party. Miss Iretta Dart made an announcement concerning articles by Dr. C. C. Green which will appear in the News.

An invitation from the Chamber of Commerce to join in the move to aid the Federal Housing Commission was read. The club was invited to attend the meeting which is to be conducted at the Cathedral on November 19.

The evening's program was in charge of the education committee of which Miss Laura Blucher is chairman.

Special guests were Miss Dorothy Bechman of Greenville, Miss Agnes Elwinger and Miss Green of Butler, and Miss Margaret Toepfer of New Castle.

STATE OFFICERS TO REPRESENT B. P. W.

Several state officers of the Business and Professional Women's club, among whom are Dr. Mildred Rogers, of this city, national health chairman, and former state president, and Miss Nancy Bechtol, state treasurer, have been invited to a membership dinner to be given by the Pittsburgh club Wednesday evening.

The guest speaker will be Miss Emily R. Kneubuhl, executive secretary of the National Federation of B. P. W. clubs, who will talk on the subject, "Are Women Ready for Action?"

Representatives will be present from 13 other clubs in District number 3 of Pennsylvania.

BIRTHDAY EVENT

Phyllis Jean Rodgers was a charming little hostess Saturday afternoon, when she entertained twelve children in honor of her birthday, at her home on Ray street. Games and music enlivened the hours, with prizes awarded to Maxine Lytle, Katherine Doutt and Ida Mae Ashton.

When time for refreshments came, the children marched to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Charles Stritmatter. The birthday cake was moulded in the shape of a lamb and brought forth many squeals of delight from the children.

The little guest of honor was showered with lovely gifts.

DESSERT-BRIDGE

Agnes Schweikert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Fobes, 1011 Wilmington avenue, was united in marriage to Charles Unpleby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Unpleby, of Scio, O. on November 1. Squire H. M. Reynolds officiated at the ceremony, which was performed at 9:30 p. m.

SCHWEIKERT-UNPLEBY

On Wednesday afternoon, November 7, another of the Field club series of dessert-bridge parties will be held in the club rooms for women members. Mrs. S. H. Rhoads and Mrs. S. E. Patterson will preside as hostesses, activities to begin at 1:30 o'clock.

PLEASING PROGRAM AT CURRENT EVENTS '06

Miss Laura Stevenson and Miss Jeanette Pattison shared, as guests, with Current Events '06 members, in hearing a pleasing program yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George R. McClelland, on Pine street.

Verses of scripture were quoted in response to roll call, after which there was an interesting discussion of current topics and parliamentary drill directed by Mrs. T. A. Gilkey. Light refreshments were served during the social period.

The next meeting will be on November 19, at the home of Mrs. J. L. McCaughy, of Norwood avenue.

WOMAN'S CLUB TAKES TRIP THROUGH EUROPE

"Are the governments of the world serious in their wish for peace" was the underlying thought in the interesting talk on "Europe Today" given by E. C. Ramsey, newspaper man and traveler as he spoke Monday afternoon before the members of the Woman's club in the Highland church.

Mrs. Archibald Davis presided over the business meeting, at which time 22 new members were voted into the club and 4 old members reinstated.

The various department heads reported on the activities of the departments and announced programs for the winter, after which Mrs. R. S. Tannehill, chairman of the International Relations department, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Ramsey made a colorful picture as he appeared in his Holland costume, robe-like with embroidered collar, full black trousers, astakhan cap and wooden shoes. He has traveled the past fourteen years in the European countries and Russia as newspaper correspondent and he said truly, he thought the world has gone mad and instead of nations trying to understand each other and promoting peace through this understanding, they are further apart than they were during the days of the world war.

He went on to say that each country wishes peace, but, he added, their own particular kind of peace, while they go on adding to their armaments and training.

He spoke of various ways in which a friendly understanding can be promoted and some of the things he mentioned are being done, such as economic projects, social projects and athletic contests, such as the Olympic where the youth of the countries meet in friendly contests.

There are more causes for war at the present time in the European countries than there were in 1914; there is more secret diplomacy and more men under military training than there were at that time.

In urging the women to promote peace he said the nations would have to stop glorifying war and educate the younger people to the horrors of war; to glorify leadership, education and service.

Mr. Ramsey answered many questions for the club women at the adjournment of the meeting.

The next meeting of the club will be November 19, at which time Herbert Clarence White will be the speaker. He will have slides and give a talk on "With the Camera in the Enchanted Empire".

KUPPLE KARD CLUB

Mrs. Hazel Kemp provided a most enjoyable evening for the members of the Kupple Kard club, when she was hostess at her Beckford street home.

Bridge was the principal activity of the occasion and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ernest King and Amos Zeigler. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kemp.

Next Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Amos Zeigler of Adams St., will entertain.

SCHEWELKERT-UNPLEBY

On Wednesday afternoon, November 7, another of the Field club series of dessert-bridge parties will be held in the club rooms for women members. Mrs. S. H. Rhoads and Mrs. S. E. Patterson will preside as hostesses, activities to begin at 1:30 o'clock.

RECEPTION FOR VISITING OFFICERS

Monday the Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans met in the City building during the afternoon for a business meeting and reception to visiting officers, with Mrs. Josephine Hoover presiding.

The auxiliaries represented were: 139, Sharpsburg; 92, McKeesport; 165, Ellwood City; 198, Pittsburgh; 55, Wilkinsburg; 2, Youngstown, O; Davis Star, Pittsburgh. Among the dignitaries were the national president, Mrs. Gertrude Sauter, Pittsburgh; Miss Thelma Sauter, personal aide; Mrs. Katherine Joyce, department president; Dorothy Joyce, department secretary; Commander Blakley and wife, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. G. Herline, being junior vice president; Mrs. Bessie Wardine, national aide.

A good attendance, between 25 and 30, responded to roll call. Several members of the class are expecting to attend the luncheon-program for the county meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs, on the sixteenth, and reservations will be received for the class through Mrs. Temple and Mrs. Frank Fischer.

For the November 19 meeting, Mrs. M. L. Ailey will be hostess, at her home, 213 Fairmont avenue.

TAU DELTA CLASS HAS SCAVENGER HUNT

Tau Delta class of Epworth church enjoyed a scavenger hunt last evening. In spite of the damp weather, the city was scoured for colored babies, red lanterns and many other hard-to-find objects.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Rodgers, on Ray street, the group drew slips for the various cars and after the hunt, they returned to the Rodgers home where a delicious buffet lunch was served.

Counting the points, it was found that one number had the highest score. Miss Clara Freshwater was captain of this group, and the occupants were Dorothy Depp, Hazel Steinbrink, Florence Rodgers and Sophia Clements. A large box of choice chocolates was a tempting prize.

The next meeting will take place December 12, at the home of Mrs. Edward Anderson, with Mrs. Carlyle Cameron joint hostess.

JUNIOR GUILD HAS ANNIVERSARY DINNER

On November 5, 1931 a band of fourteen girls of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church formed the Junior Guild of the church and for the past three years have worked diligently in promoting the spiritual activities for the advancement of church work.

Monday evening a prettily appointed dinner in the church dining room celebrated their third birthday and the table was appointed in blue and white, the guild colors. A large birthday cake on which glowed three candles, and single silver candelabra, the white tapers tied with blue maline, formed a pretty centerpiece. A delicious dinner menu was served.

The committee on arrangements included Anne Hitchen, Mrs. Katherine Mayer and Mrs. Ethel Evans.

Miss Myrna Whiting acted as pianist for the pep singing and at intervals during the evening; Katherine Hettick gave a reading, "Not Understood" and Mrs. William Wigfall, organizer of the group, gave an encouraging talk.

Mrs. Hitchen called a business meeting at conclusion of dinner with Mrs. May Perry conducting a devotional period, after which reports were given of the past year's work. An election resulted in Ethel Evans being named president; Katherine Smith, secretary and Katherine Mayer, treasurer.

Histles for the period following the program will include Mrs. M. Rizika, Mrs. H. Wolfe, Mrs. G. Stone, Mrs. L. Reinhart and Mrs. H. Rosenberg.

SISTERHOOD MEETING

The members of the Beth Shalom Sisterhood will meet Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. M. Herkowitz, Sheridan avenue.

NO REGIMENTATION NEEDED

SOME time ago the New York newspapers carried notices of the death of Franklin Simon, well known merchant of the nation's metropolis and founder of one of the city's big department stores. Mr. Simon, according to the dispatches, was a man of vision. He was credited with having been the first of the New York business men to visualize the future and to perceive that Fifth Avenue, above 34th Street, would become the city's fashionable shopping district. He acted accordingly, built his business there, began offering fashionable styles at what were considered reasonable prices, and became one of New York's merchant princes.

All of which led the New York Times to state: "One thought forces itself to the front of the mind in surveying the rise of a business like that built by Mr. Simon. It would have been impossible had he been hampered at every step by government regulation and meddlesomeness. What need of imposing a 'code' on a man like him? He was his own code, always one of honor and humanity."

Of course the regiments, who like to talk about the age of competition without government interference as the day when we were ruled by the law of the jungle, would say that Mr. Simon's case was the exception which proves the rule. But this is not true. Greed and graft in business are exceptions and not the rule. There are thousands of business men of real integrity all over this nation. They gain success not by using the tooth and claw, and not by leaning on the government for support. They work long and patiently without watching the clock, practice the rules of honesty and fair dealing, and do not waste their time and money in the fond belief that in the long run Uncle Sam will take care of them anyhow.

DEATH IN HASTE

It is haste that causes most fatal automobile accidents. This is the conclusion to be drawn from an analysis of figures collected by statisticians of an insurance company.

The figures related to accidents occurring last year and were obtained from official sources in various centers. They dealt particularly with fatal accidents of the kind in which the driver was at fault. In 33 per cent of these cases, the driver was found to have been exceeding the speed limit. The same percentage held with respect to the driver's trying to take the right-of-way when he was not entitled to it. In more than five per cent of the cases, the driver was guilty either of passing a standing street car, cutting in, passing another car on a curve or hill or passing on the wrong side. Cases in which the driver went completely off the highway amounted to more than 18 per cent. Nine per cent of the accidents were charged simply to reckless driving.

The various causes listed when lumped together, the insurance company statisticians emphasized, could be labeled "heedless, needless haste."

In other words, more than 90 per cent of the accidents studied were caused by drivers being "in a hurry"—their overeagerness to get to some place or to no place in particular.

The lesson is very plain—less hurry and less speed.

SWAT IN TIME

Perhaps we can blame the sun spots (if there are any visible now). Perhaps the moon is off her proper course. Perhaps it has resulted from the depression. Perhaps it is the weather. Perhaps we have become careless and neglected our duties. Or perhaps, after all, it has resulted from a hundred and one other causes.

But, nevertheless, we are certain that there have been more pesky, dirty, troublesome flies this season than in many years.

It is too late to bother now about the cause of our plight, but definite action can be taken to prevent its recurrence. Scientists tell us that the early winter fly is the greatest menace of them all. Before the winter is over we will have provided for the birth of about one hundred million children or other descendants, who will bother us next spring.

We can see that these flies are different now than they were early in the summer. They have lost their pep and agility. Now they lazily hover near the ceiling or amble slowly across the window pane. It seems that they are glad to be inside, where it is warm and where their enemies system of propagation can flourish.

Our moral must now be evident. Instead of killing two birds with one stone, we now have the opportunity of killing hundreds of millions of potential flies with but a single stroke. (If we are good swatters).

PRESIDENTIAL YEARNING

The hidden ambitions of successful men are interesting things, when we can find out about them. Many an industrial leader secretly wishes he had become a prospector or a musician; many a general would be a locomotive engineer or an Arctic explorer if he followed the dictates of his own heart.

But the most surprising of all these suppressed desires is the one recently attributed to the late President Coolidge.

Arthur Hopkins, theatrical producer, says that Mr. Coolidge always wanted to be an actor. Mr. Hopkins says that he and John Barrymore learned this, some years ago, while guests of President Coolidge at a White House luncheon.

The president, he says, not only wanted to be an actor, but was convinced that he would have been a pretty good one.

Few men ever win more success than Mr. Coolidge found in his chosen field of politics. It is strange indeed to learn that beneath it all there lurked a hidden yen for the glamour of footlights and grease paint.

We hope we're not shot for asking, but is that love affair on the coast McAdoo about nothing?

Washington reports that Tugwell's part in the AAA will be behind the scenes. The farmers remaining behind the plow.

The government will employ an army of 25,000 to discover what the depression and the drought have done to the farmers. The farmers, meanwhile, will continue to find out for themselves.

A man arrested down in North Carolina for urging the overthrow of the government has been released. Authorities say they don't know whether to charge him with sedition or with being a member of the Brain Trust.

Correctly Speaking

The use of the word "certainly" as a means of emphasis in relation to matters on which no doubt has been cast, is a colloquialism, and its over-use is monotonous.

There must be something in this exercise theory. You never see a weak and broken-down tongue.

THAT GOMORRAH

Recent protests by the better class of Chicago citizens over the wave of crime stimulated by legal liquor, recall the visit to that city of John Burns, British labor leader. While making a speech at a labor mass meeting, a man in the audience got up and introduced himself as the chief of police.

"You are quoted in the newspapers as saying that Chicago is a pocket edition of hell," the chief accused him. "If you made that remark, you must withdraw it or you cannot continue your speech."

Mr. Burns was not dismayed in the least. "If that is what the papers said," he replied to the chief, "I have not been correctly quoted. What I said was, that hell is a pocket edition of Chicago."

After the laughter had subsided there was no further interruptions.

Weekly Health Talks

"Prize fighters are able to take physical punishment that would kill the average man. Over a series of years they have so developed the protective muscles of their bodies that the steam hammer blows to which they have to submit in most instances do not result in serious injury. But even this type of man can be badly injured and fatally so, as the records will show. It follows that if any one sustains a severe blow on any portion of the body, the extent of the injury, even though appearing to be slight on the surface, should be ascertained by seeking professional advice," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health.

"Recently a man died following a blow that ruptured his bladder. Skull injuries that do not even seriously bruise the scalp have caused severe concussion of the brain. Skulls can even be fractured with the outward evidences of injury being exceedingly slight.

"While the body is marvelously constructed to give maximum protection to the internal organs, and this even under unusual circumstances, this fact by no means should be relied upon when one has received a severe blow, even though the surface injury be slight.

"Hospitals contain many records where the neglect of a supposedly superficial blow that had seriously involved the liver, brain, bladder, spleen or some other internal organ directly resulted in death.

"For some reason or other Herr Hitler has not been even making the inside pages of the newspapers. Was Ies Losse?

If war keeps on in a few years there won't be anything left in Europe worth fighting for. And then we WILL have disarmament.

An attempt was made in Pittsburgh to have school teachers act as special traffic officers. It seems that to us that kind of work does not belong to school teachers. There should be experienced officers to guard school children.

"Of course, most blows or body bumps are superficial. One gets a discolored skin at the point of contact, and in due time the thing clears up. But this fact should by no means deter one from seeking professional advice immediately when he has received a hard blow on the head or on the trunk of the body, even though the injury marks may be faint.

"There is perhaps better than a fifty to one chance that the injury is as superficial as it appears to be. However, though the odds are thus much in one's favor against serious injury, no one has any logical right to act upon that assumption.

"It certainly will not cost much to be assured that the blow or injury is of little consequence. On the other hand, if things are worse than they appear to be, one's life may be saved for his trouble."

"We don't interfere with Junior's natural development" usually means "We don't let Junior interfere with golf and bridge."

"We hope we're not shot for asking, but is that love affair on the coast McAdoo about nothing?

The State Emergency Relief organization will not stand for politics being played by employees. All one has to be is to be a Democrat.

You will always notice that the man who every summer, year after year, goes bareheaded to make the hair grow, never has, even though the surface injury be slight.

We can see that these flies are different now than they were early in the summer. They have lost their pep and agility. Now they lazily hover near the ceiling or amble slowly across the window pane. PRESIDENTIAL YEARNING

The hidden ambitions of successful men are interesting things, when we can find out about them. Many an industrial leader secretly wishes he had become a prospector or a musician; many a general would be a locomotive engineer or an Arctic explorer; if he followed the dictates of his own heart.

But the most surprising of all these suppressed desires is the one recently attributed to the late President Coolidge.

Arthur Hopkins, theatrical producer, says that Mr. Coolidge always wanted to be an actor. Mr. Hopkins says that he and John Barrymore learned this, some years ago, while guests of President Coolidge at a White House luncheon.

The president, he says, not only wanted to be an actor, but was convinced that he would have been a pretty good one.

Few men ever win more success than Mr. Coolidge found in his chosen field of politics. It is strange indeed to learn that beneath it all there lurked a hidden yen for the glamour of footlights and grease paint.

We hope we're not shot for asking, but is that love affair on the coast McAdoo about nothing?

The government will employ an army of 25,000 to discover what the depression and the drought have done to the farmers. The farmers, meanwhile, will continue to find out for themselves.

UNDERSTAND THE TRUTH
BEHIND THE HURTING CRITICISM

Aren't you too sensitive and easily hurt?

Reprimanded in a way you know you deserve, you are offended at the person who really is doing you a favor.

Needed reproof is valuable to the person who receives it.

Do you ever welcome criticism in such a spirit?

You may have been for some years, unfortunately, in a position that did not permit anyone to criticize you.

But for this you might be much more perfect in many ways than you are today.

You might be more enlightened, more tolerant, more just.

Criticism brings out the best that is inside.

Otherwise there is inferior drifting instead of superior acting.

Most criticism fails of good results because it is not done in a friendly and helpful manner.

The censor is too personal and tinged with anger, perhaps, and criticism should be in the right spirit to be constructive.

Personal likes or dislikes should not temper complaints.

On the other hand, if you are criticized, be wise enough to see the justice of it and profit by it by forgetting the spirit in which it is given.

THAT GOMORRAH

Recent protests by the better class of Chicago citizens over the wave of crime stimulated by legal liquor, recall the visit to that city of John Burns, British labor leader. While making a speech at a labor meeting, a man in the audience got up and introduced himself as the chief of police.

"You are quoted in the newspaper as saying that Chicago is a pocket edition of 'hell,'" the chief accused him. "If you made that remark, you must withdraw it or you cannot continue your speech."

Mr. Burns was not dismayed in the least. "If that is what the papers said," he replied to the chief, "I have not been correctly quoted. What I said was, that hell is a pocket edition of Chicago."

After the laughter had subsided, there was no further interruptions.

Weekly
Health Talks

"Prize fighters are able to take physical punishment that would kill the average man. Over a series of years they have so developed the protective muscles of their bodies that the steam hammer blows to which they have to submit in most instances do not result in serious injury. But even this type of man can be badly injured and fatally so, as the records will show. It follows that if any one sustains a severe blow on any portion of the body, the extent of the injury, even though appearing to be slight on the surface, should be ascertained by seeking professional advice," state Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health.

"Recently a man died following a blow that ruptured his bladder. Skull injuries that do not even seriously bruise the scalp have caused severe concussion of the brain. Skulls can even be fractured with the outward evidences of injury being exceedingly slight."

"While the body is marvelously constructed to give maximum protection to the internal organs, and this even under unusual circumstances, this fact by no means should be relied upon when one has received a severe blow, even though the surface injury be slight."

"Hospitals contain many records where the neglect of a supposedly superficial blow that had seriously involved the liver, brain, bladder, spleen or some other internal organ directly resulted in death."

"For some reason or other Hitler has not been even making the inside pages of the newspapers. Was Is Los?"

"If war keeps on in a few years there won't be anything left in Europe worth fighting for. And then we WILL have disarmament."

"An attempt was made in Pittsburgh to have school teachers act as special traffic officers. It seems to us that that kind of work does not belong to school teachers. There should be experienced officers to guard school children."

"Courage isn't an unmixed blessing. If people didn't get scared, they never would make good resolutions."

"Jack—I'm smoking a terrible lot of cigars lately."

"Cain was the first true conservative. He let it be known that he wasn't his brother's keeper."

"Don't blame yourself if the great man's meaning isn't clear to you. It isn't clear to him, either."

"Americanism: Encouraging school sports to 'build character'; developing a winning team by using players who are in school only to play football."

"We don't interfere with Junior's natural development" usually means "We don't let Junior interfere with his trouble."

"Correctly Speaking—

Sun sets tonight 4:53. Sun rises very amusing to a disinterested party to watch the thrill of material pride in the knowability of the child as he explores with supreme indifference the shelves of delicate ware, and the despairing intensity of the clerks on the other hand who were forced to look on and even smile for fear of losing a sale.

TODAY'S STORYETTE
Mebury tells about a beautiful car that was parked out in front of the Paramount studios, while an enormous crowd stood around admiring it.

"I wonder who owns that bus?" asked one of the spectators.

"It is mine," said the actor in a superior tone as he puffed himself into the cushions behind the wheel.

"It is my car. It belongs to me."

"Well," answered the stranger. "I am from the finance company. It won't belong to me."

Scientists are of the opinion that television is only about five years old. It seems about time to begin to cultivate company manners in the home.

A few years ago when there was every kind of promise of big performance we were told that if science got a strangle-hold on the atom, a big liner could be pulled across the ocean by a glass of water.

A lot of us bankers on the subject of the new atom.

According to the Literary Digest, the blood group to which the ancient Egyptians belonged can be determined by standard agglutination tests on mummies, but in the event of a necessary transfusion we'll draw the line on having any Pharaoh giving us a pint of Pharaoh's blood.

That's the sort of disappointment that takes the heart out of a man. Time was when we thought it could be applied to a lawn-mower, at least.

Now, however, Dr. Millikan pooh-poohs all that as a lot of scientific tripe. He says the atom couldn't run a peanut-roaster, or a corn popper—we forget just which, but it was something unimportant.

NO REGIMENTATION NEEDED

SOME time ago the New York newspapers carried notices of the death of Franklin Simon, well known merchant of the nation's metropolis and founder of one of the city's big department stores. Mr. Simon, according to the dispatches, was a man of vision. He was credited with having been the first of the New York business men to visualize the future and to perceive that Fifth Avenue, above 34th Street, would become the city's fashionable shopping district. He acted accordingly, built his business there, began offering fashionable styles at what were considered reasonable prices, and became one of New York's merchant princes.

All of which led the New York Times to state: "One thought forces itself to the front of the mind in surveying the rise of a business like that built by Mr. Simon. It would have been impossible had he been hampered at every step by government regulation and meddlesomeness. What need of imposing a 'code' on a man like him? He was his own code, always one of honor and humanity."

Of course the regiments, who like to talk about the age of competition without government interference as the day when we were ruled by the law of the jungle, would say that Mr. Simon's case was the exception which proves the rule. But this is not true. Greed and graft in business are exceptions and not the rule. There are thousands of business men of real integrity all over this nation. They gain success not by using the tooth and claw, and not by leaning on the government for support. They work long and patiently without watching the clock, practice the rules of honesty and fair dealing, and do not waste their time and money in the fond belief that in the long run Uncle Sam will take care of them anyhow.

DEATH IN HASTE

It is haste that causes most fatal automobile accidents. This is the conclusion to be drawn from an analysis of figures collected by statisticians of an insurance company.

The figures related to accidents occurring last year and were obtained from official sources in various centers. They dealt particularly with fatal accidents of the kind in which the driver was at fault. In 33 per cent of these cases, the driver was found to have been exceeding the speed limit. The same percentage held with respect to the driver's trying to take the right-of-way when he was not entitled to it. In more than five per cent of the cases, the driver was guilty either of passing a standing street car, cutting in, passing another car on a curve or hill or passing on the wrong side. Cases in which the driver went completely off the highway amounted to more than 18 per cent. Nine per cent of the accidents were charged simply to reckless driving.

The various causes listed when lumped together, the insurance company statisticians emphasized, could be labeled "heedless, needless haste."

In other words, more than 90 per cent of the accidents studied were caused by drivers being "in a hurry"—their over eagerness to get some place or to no place in particular.

The lesson is very plain—less hurry and less speed.

A SWAT IN TIME

Perhaps we can blame the sun spots (if there are any visible now). Perhaps the moon is off her proper course. Perhaps it has resulted from the depression. Perhaps it is the weather. Perhaps we have become careless and neglected our duties. Or perhaps, after all, it has resulted from a hundred and one other causes.

But, nevertheless, we are certain that there have been more pesky, dirty, troublesome flies this season than in many years.

It is too late to bother now about the cause of our plight, but definite action can be taken to prevent its recurrence. Scientists tell us that the early winter fly is the greatest menace of them all. Before the winter is over we will have provided for the birth of about one hundred million children or other descendants, who will bother us next spring.

We can see that these flies are different now than they were early in the summer. They have lost their pep and agility. Now they lazily hover near the ceiling or amble slowly across the window pane. They seem that they are glad to be inside, where it is warm and where their endless system of propagation can flourish.

Our moral must now be evident. Instead of killing two birds with one stone, we now have the opportunity of killing hundreds of millions of potential flies with but a single stroke, (if we are good swatters).

Timely Reminders From

College School Of

this year of 1934 is not a normal year, and not being a normal year, all the signs and portents by which politicians usually take their bearings, go by the boards.

It is not normal for upward of 20,000,000 people to be on the dole in this country.

It is not normal for upward of 10,000,000 people to be unemployed.

It is not normal for industry to be regimented as it is today; for agriculture to be coddled and subsidized as it is today; for the federal government to be as intimate in the affairs of the average citizen as it is today.

By and large, the Republicans have conducted their campaign with the object of creating individual resentment against this condition of affairs.

Their principal candidates and speakers have inveigled against it; have sought to arouse a feeling of revulsion against the encroachments of the federal government into the fields of private initiative and enterprise.

New Deal At Stake

The results of today's balloting will determine how successful they have been; will determine whether the new deal will continue its experimental way, or lapse into the more familiar channels of "rugged individualism" and normal industrial self-government.

Whatever happens, it is hardly in the cards for the Republicans to win control of the 74th congress which meets in January. The existing Democratic majorities are too great to overturn except in the event of a political miracle which no one—including the Republicans —expects.

The chief Republican hope is to cut down these existing Democratic majorities; to make a showing sufficiently large as to impress the country with the sentiment against the new deal; against the existing order of things.

To do that, the Republicans must make serious inroads into the Democratic majority in the house of representatives and win control of the upper house as well.

The present membership of the house of representatives is 309

SCAVENGER HUNT

The rain did very little to dampen the ardor of the searchers Monday evening, who left the Central Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock on a scavenger hunt. The members of the Christian Endeavor society were loaded into 7 cars, each group given a list of what was to be brought in, and out they started.

After a search here and there driving into strange places, Dr. C. B. Wingerd and his group returned weary but successful, having all the articles suggested, a spinning wheel, a washboard, a wash tub with a key, a bulb out of a radio tube, a city directory, 2 years old; a Liberty 2 years old; a protractor, knitting needle, iron helmet, knapsack, inner tube and burned out light bulb.

As the older groups returned, much merriment was caused by the tales of the hunt and then all were invited to the dining room where Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Campbell had prepared a "hamburg fry" for the hungry group. Martha Swisher and Viola Maxwell were the committee on arrangements.

QUOTA CLUB HEARS
HEAD OF SCHOOLS

A beautiful "November" table created the eyes of the members of the Quota Club Monday evening as they gathered in the private dining room at the Elk's Club for their monthly dinner meeting. A centerpiece formed of a basket of fruit was artistically arranged by Mrs. Orra Snyder. Miss Marian Ferver, Dr. Rozelle Popp and Miss Hannah Trodden were the hostesses.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools, who spoke most interestingly on the Federal Emergency Relief Education, giving the Quotarians an enlightening picture of the object of the project.

Miss Katherine Hite presided at the business session when plans were made to attend the Harrisburg celebration November 24 in honor of Myrtle B. Duke, past international president.

The members will again assemble next Monday evening in the club dining room.

Thirty Gather

The Sturdevant home on West Garfield avenue was a beautiful setting Monday evening for the meeting of thirty Queen Esther society members of the Third United Presbyterian church and their teacher, Mrs. Bernard Hook.

Hostesses of the evening were the Misses Grace and Eve Houk and Mrs. Robert Allhouse, the latter of Youngstown, O.

The evening's work was in charge of the president, Miss Pearl Colnot. Miss Thelma Rose led the scripture.

A number of beautiful selections were rendered by quartet composed of Mrs. Betty Hopper, Mrs.

Mrs. Mac McDonald. Last but not least, and coming as a complete surprise to Mrs. Allhouse, was the entrance of her five year old daughter, Donna Jean, with an umbrella full of lovely handkerchiefs.

This shower was presented to Mrs. Allhouse, who recently moved from New Castle to Avondale avenue, Youngstown, O. Mrs. Allhouse responded graciously.

Games and contests were enjoyed and prizes were won by Mrs. Ed.

O'Neill and Miss Lilly Davies. Activities were in charge of Miss Kitty Hopper, Mrs. William McBride and Miss Reba Sines.

At a seasonable hour a delicious repast was served and the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Fred Sturdevant.

The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party on December 2 with Mrs. Clarence Love, Mrs. Lloyd Winer and Miss Lilly Davies as hostesses. The place will be arranged later.

Anniversary Honored

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Porter, were pleasantly surprised by relatives on Saturday afternoon in their home at Walmo, when they assembled to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Twenty participated, and after an informal period of pastimes dinner was served. The guests of honor were presented with a lovely dinner set and other gifts appropriate to the occasion. Those in attendance were Mrs. J. B. Love, Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath, of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston and Mrs. Mayme Robins, of Sharpsville, Mrs. Jennie Thompson, Ernest Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson and children of Pudlaski, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Porter, Lois and Elizabeth Porter, Mrs. Edith Polen, of East Palestine, O. and others from the immediate vicinity.

Sir Robert Baden-Powell writes, "In the Lower House they spoke of him as a patriot who had died on the battlefield of his country."

History Up-To-Date—Nov. 6, 1933—James Gregory was born in Aberdeen, one of a Scottish family which produced 14 notable men of science. He was 25 when he invented the reflecting telescope, to which we owe our intimate knowledge of other universes. He was using it to show some of his students the satellites of Jupiter when he was suddenly struck with blindness.

Nov. 6, 1865—The warship with a country ended its career. The Confederate privateer Shenandoah, Capt. Waddell, put in at Liverpool and was seized by British authorities. Waddell explained that he destroyed more than 30 federal ships in the Pacific in June, July and August before he learned the war had ended in May.

The Shenandoah, the most destructive of all Confederate ships, never touched a Confederate port.

Nov. 6, 1894—Citizens of Brooklyn and other neighboring towns voted to make New York the world's largest city, by approving consolidation.

But Brooklyn is still the third largest community in the United States, the seventh largest in the world.

Notable Nativities—It is a day conspicuously identified with musical history—it is the anniversary of the death of Tchaikovsky, and the birthday of Antoine Sax, John Philip Sousa and Ignace Paderewski.

Antoine Sax, b. 1814, in Belgium. He was 21 when he discovered a new principle in the making of wind instruments, namely, that it is the proportions given to a column of air vibrating in a sonorous tube that determine the timbre. Hence the wide throat of the saxophone, which he invented. Sax was 40 when Sousa was born, and 46 when Ignace Paderewski came into the world in Poland. Little Ignace wanted to be a violinist, but a great teacher of the violin in Berlin told him, "You will never be a musician." Saint-Saens called him "a genius who happens to play the piano." Next to playing the piano, he liked to play billiards.

Other notable nativities:

Sir John A. Macdonald, 1822, British statesman, first to make a non-stop flight across the Atlantic, in 1858. He died the same year in a crash in France.

Edsel Ford, b. 1883, automotive

John Francis Neylan, b. 1885, eminent Pacific coast lawyer.

Ernest M. Hopkins, b. 1877, educator.

Harold Ross, b. 1892, in Aspen, Colorado, editor of The New Yorker.

Tony Canzoneri, b. 1908, prize-fighter.

Francis Lederer, b. 1906, Bohemian-born Hollywood actor.

Walter Johnson, b. 1887, baseball player and manager.

Matthew M. Neely, b. 1874, senator from West Virginia.

Louis Murphy, b. 1875, senator from Iowa.

Conrad A. Henke, b. 1875, Pennsylvania.

Parrotts, b. 1875, the statement.

The total number of deaths was, of course, higher, but this was due to the fact the greatest number of men, who ever went to war, were engaged.

The death rate per 1,000 was smaller than in many previous wars. Only about eight per cent of the wounded failed to survive.

Eighty per cent of the wounded were able to return to service, thanks to modern surgery and aspasia.

After a search here and there delving into strange places, Dr. C. B. Wingerd and his group returned, weary but successful in getting all the articles suggested: a spinning wheel, a watch that wound with a key; a burned out radio tube, a city directory 5 years old; a telephone directory 2 years old; a Liberty 2 years old; a protractor, knitting needle, iron helmet, knapsack, inner tube and burned out light bulb.

As the other groups returned, much merriment was caused by the tales of the hunt and then all were invited to the dining room where Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Campbell had prepared a "hamburg fry" for the hungry group. Martha Cwisher and Viola Maxwell were the committee on arrangements.

A beautiful "November" table greeted the eyes of the members of the Quota Club Monday evening as they gathered in the private dining room at the Elk's club for the weekly dinner meeting. A centerpiece formed of basket of fruit was artistically arranged by Mrs. Orra Snyder, Miss Marian Ferver, Dr. Rosella Popp and Miss Hannah Trodden were the hostesses.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools, who spoke most interestingly on the Federal Emergency Relief Education, giving the Quotarians an enlightening picture of the object of the project.

Miss Katherine Hite presided at the business session when plans were made to attend the Harrisburg celebration November 24 in honor of Myrtle B. Duke, past international president.

The members will again assemble next Monday evening in the club dining room.

Thirty Gather

The Sturdevant home on West Garfield avenue was a beautiful setting Monday evening for the meeting of thirty Queen Esther society members of the Third United Presbyterian church and their teacher, Mrs. Bernard Hook.

Hostesses of the evening were the Misses Grace and Eva Houk and Mrs. Robert Allhouse, the latter of Youngstown, O.

The evening's work was in charge of the president Miss Pearl Colnot. Miss Thelma Rose led the scripture. A number of beautiful selections were rendered by a quartet comprised of Miss Kitty Hopper, Mrs. Ed. O'Neill, Miss Reba Sines and Mrs. Mac McDermott. Last but not least, and coming as a complete surprise to Mrs. Allhouse, was the entrance of her five year old daughter, Donna Jean, with an umbrella full of lovely handkerchiefs. This shower was presented to Mrs. Allhouse responded graciously.

Games and contests were enjoyed and prizes were won by Mrs. Ed. O'Neill and Miss Lilly Davies. Activities were in charge of Miss Kitty Hopper, Mrs. William McBride and Miss Reba Sines.

At a seasonal hour a delicious repast was served and the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Fred Sturdevant.

The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party on December 2 with Mrs. Clarence Lowe, Mrs. Lloyd Wimer and Miss Lilly Davies as hostesses. The place will be arranged later.

Anniversary Honored

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Porter, were surprisedly pleased by relatives on Saturday afternoon in their home at Walmo, when they assembled to help celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Twenty participated, and after an informal period of pastimes dinner was served. The guests of honor were presented with a lovely dinner set and other gifts appropriate to the occasion. Those in attendance were Mrs. J. B. Love, Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath, of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston and Mrs. Mayme Robins, of Sharpsville. Mrs. Jennie Thompson, Ernest Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson and children of Pulkaski, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Porter, Lois and Elizabeth Porter, Mrs. Edith Polen, of East Palestine, O. and others from the immediate vicinity.

Polish Falcon Club

The Komisya Sokolic, of the Polish Falcons Nest 146, held a business and social session, recently at the Falcon Hall, on Miller street.

After routine business had been transacted, the members heard a very interesting talk on Poland, by Miss Matilda Pigon. She gave a description of Warsaw, the capital city and spoke about the beautiful city of Krakow.

Refreshments were served by Miss Klara Kielar, Mrs. Catherine Klamut and Mrs. Anna Gierad, six social hour being enlivened by games.

The next meeting is scheduled for Friday, November 16 with the hostesses: Misses Mary Mazurkiewicz, Helen Noga and Matilda Pigon.

ness. The shock killed him a few days later.

Nov. 6, 1865.—The warship without a country ended its career. The Confederate privateer Shenandoah, Capt. Waddell, put in at Liverpool and was seized by British authorities. Waddell explained that he destroyed more than 30 federal ships in the Pacific in June, July and August before he learned the war had ended in May.

The Shenandoah, the most destructive of all Confederate ships, never touched a Confederate port.

Nov. 6, 1894.—Citizens of Brooklyn and other neighboring towns voted to make New York the world's largest city, by approving consolidation.

But Brooklyn is still the third largest community in the United States, the seventh largest in the world.

NOTABLE NATIVITIES—It is a day conspicuously identified with musical history—it is the anniversary of the death of Tschaikovsky, and the birthday of Antoine Sax, John Philip Sousa and Ignace Paderewski.

Antoine Sax, b. 1814, in Belgium. He was 21 when he discovered a new principle in the making of wind instruments, namely, that it is the proportions given to a column of air vibrating in a sonorous tube that determine the timbre. Hence the wide throat of the saxophone, which he invented. Sax was 40 when Sousa was born, and 46 when Ignace Paderewski came into the world in Poland. Little Ignace wanted to be a violinist, but a great teacher of the violin in Berlin told him, "You will never be a musician." Saint-Saens called him "a genius who happens to play the piano." Next to playing the piano, he likes to play billiards.

Other notable nativities:

Sir John Alcock, b. 1892, British aviator, first to make a non-stop flight across the Atlantic, in 1919. He died the same year in a crash in France.

Edsel Ford, b. 1893, automotive scion...John Francis Neylan, b. 1885, eminent Pacific coast lawyer...Ernest M. Hopkins, b. 1877, educator...Harold Ross, b. 1892, in Aspen, Colorado, editor of the New Yorker...Tony Canzonieri, b. 1908, prize-fighter...Francis Lederer, b. 1906, Bohemian-born Hollywood actor...Walter Johnson, b. 1887, baseball player and manager...Matthew N. Neely, b. 1874, senator from West Virginia...Louis Murphy, b. 1875, senator from Iowa.

At a seasonal hour a delicious repast was served and the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Fred Sturdevant.

The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party on December 2 with Mrs. Clarence Lowe, Mrs. Lloyd Wimer and Miss Lilly Davies as hostesses. The place will be arranged later.

CONTRADICTORY

The Hickory Heights Parent-Teacher Association will meet on Thursday evening November 8, in the school with Mrs. W. L. Cosel as the guest speaker.

There will be a reading by Dorothy McConnell, a violin and piano number by Louise and Ethel Munnel, with an entertainment by Grades 2 and 3 under the direction of Garlo Shaw.

COUNTY MEETING

Monday evening the Lawrence County Parent-Teacher Association met in the home of Mrs. R. H. Ramsey, 331 Boyles avenue, with Mrs. R. F. Roberts presiding.

Reports were given of the success of the Children's Theater production in the afternoon and plans were made to bring more such entertainments here in the future.

The council expressed heartfelt gratitude to Dr. C. C. Green and John C. Styling, superintendents of the city and county schools for their co-operation in permitting the children time off to see the production, and to all others who co-operated.

Tuesday, November 13, the council will meet at the home of Mrs. Herman Gibson, 1516 Delaware avenue.

ENDEAVORERS HAVE
SCAVENGER HUNT

MRS. LEWIS ATTENDS
BRILLIANT WEDDING

The rain did very little to dampen the ardor of the searchers Monday evening, who left the Central Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock on a scavenger hunt. The members of the Christian Endeavor society were loaded into 7 cars, each group given a list of what was to be brought in, and out they started.

After a search here and there, delving into strange places, Dr. C. B. Wingerd and his group returned, weary but successful in getting all the articles suggested: a spinning wheel, a watch that wound with a key, a burned out radio tube, a city directory 5 years old; a telephone directory 2 years old; a Liberty 2 years old; a protractor; knitting needles; iron helmet, knapsack, inner tube and burned out light bulb.

As the other groups returned, much merriment was caused by the tales of the hunt and then all were invited to the dining room, where Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Campbell had prepared a "haunting fry" for the hungry group. Martha Cawiser and Viola Maxwell were the committee on arrangements.

Education Week Is Being Observed

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's clubs, education Week is being observed this week, with the schools of the cities holding special programs all during the week. The chief objective in the week's observation will be to interest the parents of the city in their schools. Visiting days will be announced and it is hoped that all parents will manage to attend at least one school during the week.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of New Castle Schools, has prepared a series of short articles.

The first one which bears on the "Increased Responsibility of The Public Schools" follows:

In the development of the public schools of this country, each decade has enlarged our conception of their function, and the constantly increasing complexities of modern life have presented new responsibilities. The original purpose of public education to promote literacy and provide an enlightened citizenship has been enlarged until the schools are now called upon to recognize a very definite social and political relationship and transform themselves into specific institutions for the advancement and welfare of the state. They are now recognized by all thoughtful people as an indispensable agency in an enlightened democracy.

During the World War President Wilson told us that we were fighting "to make the world safe for democracy." The public schools and the higher institutions of learning are called upon "to make democracy safe for the world." It is a platitude to say that if we are to have universal suffrage we must have an enlightened electorate. However much we may give play to our emotions regarding the sovereign ballot the regrettable fact still remains that a few citizens vote and many are not. Democracy will never be safe for the world until a safe majority of our citizens are able and willing to vote and vote with intelligence.

Income Limited

The present economic crisis has seriously limited the available income of the schools and at the same time it has added to their responsibilities to a degree not realized by those not closely connected with their operation. With greatly reduced facilities there is a very distinct necessity for more service. Crowded classrooms attended by large numbers of undernourished and scantily clad children, limited educational supplies and other factors present problems which the general public does not fully appreciate. Nevertheless the patriotic and professional devotion of the teachers of America have made them willing to bear their burdens cheerfully and carry on like true soldiers in the public service.

James Linderman and Joseph Holoyoke of New Kensington were visitors of Jerry Baxter on Sunday.

W. Patterson is improving from a recent illness.

Mrs. Lydia Brannon and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brannon, of Erie, Pa., were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McConnell, of the Harlanburg road.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McConnell and family of the Harlanburg road, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McConnell and family, of Ellwood City, on Sunday.

Blanche Carr, Dorothy Loudenslager, Hazel Smith, Chainer Kennedy, Theodore Carr and Robert Barrow spent Sunday at the home of Hazel Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, of Darlington, Pa.

The Junior Garden club was entertained by Karl Kennedy Saturday afternoon. The hours were spent in making note books. A lunch was served by the host, assisted by his mother, Mrs. E. B. Kennedy.

A social gathering was held at the home of Victoria Scott, of the East Brook road, last Friday evening. The main diversions of the evening were games, music and chat. Thirty-two were in attendance. At a late hour a luncheon was served by the joint hostesses, Dorothy Brunton, Nancy Reichard and Victoria Scott.

Education Week Is Being Observed

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's clubs, education Week is being observed this week with the schools of the cities holding special programs all during the week. The chief objective in the week's observation will be to interest the parents of the city in their schools. Visiting days will be announced and it is hoped that all parents will manage to attend at least one school during the week.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of New Castle Schools, has prepared a series of short articles.

The first one which bears on the "Increased Responsibility of The Public Schools" follows:

In the development of the public schools of this country, each decade has enlarged our conception of their function, and the constant increasing complexities of modern life have presented new responsibilities. The original purpose of public education to promote literacy and provide an enlightened citizenship has been enlarged until the schools are now called upon to recognize a very definite social and political relationship and transform themselves into specific institutions for the advancement and welfare of the state. They are now recognized by all thoughtful people as an indispensable agency in an enlightened democracy.

During the World War President Wilson told us that we were fighting "to make the world safe for democracy." The public schools and the higher institutions of learning are called upon "to make democracy safe for the world." It is a platitude to say that if we are to have universal suffrage we must have an enlightened electorate. However much we may give play to our emotions regarding the sovereign ballot the regrettable fact still remains that a few citizens vote and many are apathetic. Democracy will never be safe for the world until a safe majority of our citizens are able and willing to vote and vote with intelligence.

Income Limited

The present economic crisis has seriously limited the available income of the schools and at the same time it has added to their responsibilities to a degree not realized by those not closely connected with their operation. With greatly reduced facilities there is a very distinct necessity for more service. Crowded classrooms attended by large numbers of undernourished and scantly clad children, limited educational supplies and other factors present problems which the general public does not fully appreciate. Nevertheless the rational patriotism and professional devotion of the teachers of America have made them willing to bear their burdens cheerfully and carry on like true soldiers in the public service.

They have recognized in this great crisis an opportunity to exemplify the principles of patriotism which they have endeavored to inculcate in the lives of their pupils.

The sober judgment of the American public is beginning to assert itself and the people are coming to realize that the public schools are able to render an indispensable service during great crisis in the lives of the people. Thousands of children in the great urban centers find in the public schools physical comforts, a human touch, and a character development which no other institution provides. This is true under normal social and economic conditions, but it is especially true in times of great distress.

It has been said that the future of America depends upon the children of today. It is a better statement of the case to say that the future of America depends upon what the responsible citizens of today do with the children of today. More and more the public is beginning to grasp that thought and as a result increased responsibilities are placed upon the schools.

The increased responsibility of the schools is the result of a constantly increasing recognition of their importance on the part of the general public. The demand for service by the schools has increased so rapidly during recent years that school authorities have found it impossible to meet that demand because of financial limitations.

Saar Vote In January May Begin New War In Europe, Rotary Hears

Before the New Castle Rotary club, meeting in The Castleton on Monday, an American newspaper correspondent to European countries prophesized that Sunday, January 13, 1935 "may be the day of the beginning of a new world catastrophe unless the powers of England, France and Italy band themselves together to tell Hitler to stay in his own backyard."

Saar Vote Is Factor

E. C. Ramsey, a resident of Titusville and correspondent for a syndicate subsidiary to the Associated Press, made the declaration and elaborated his startling prediction this way:

"On that day the German residents of the Saar valley will go to the polls and vote for one of three things, to have the Saar continued under the present League of Nations administration, to return to German allegiance, or to submit to the allegiance of France.

"The vote result will decide things—and unfortunate it will be if she votes for French or German allegiance! Hitler of Germany will act if the Saar votes any way except to continue under the League's supervision."

Hitler, whom Mr. Ramsey himself describes as a "political spasm," may unleash a new world conflict as a result of that vote that day, in the opinion of the speaker. Only the united stand of the other European powers can be counted on to stop him—"to tell him to stay in his own backyard."

France Demands Cash

Ramsey said that if the election is favorable to Germany, France shall demand the immediate payment in gold for the Saar—and Germany, the speaker said, could not pay it. France has served notice "that Germany shall not touch it until she lays down the hard gold."

For almost two hours the Rotarians, soldierly attentive to the speaker who brought to them a first-hand picture of conditions throughout the troubled continent, heard the newsman describe "European leaders as wanting peace, but

Forty And Eight To Have Meeting

World War Veterans Of District Will Gather In Ambridge Saturday

La Society des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, Voiture Locale No. 739, of Beaver County, will be the host to visiting Voyageurs on November 10, at Ambridge, Pa. The parade committee of the Forty and Eight, in conjunction with the Armistice Day committee, of Ambridge, have arranged for a parade, show, and lunch, for all who attend.

Premier Mussolini drew considerable attention during the address, and the turbulent state of affairs between Japan and Russia was noted.

War In Every Quarter

"I've come direct from Europe and I've found there is evidence of war in every quarter," Mr. Ramsey told the clubmen. "Everyone is talking peace and preparing for war."

Of Hitler the speaker later said: "Personally, I think he's a political spasm. He'll probably die in convulsions some day. And you know he's throwing some nasty fits these days."

For half an hour after finishing his prepared address Mr. Ramsey answered a barrage of questions fired by his listeners.

Guests for the day included Rotarian Bert Stevenson, of San Juan, Puerto Rico, here for his annual visit; Rotarian M. Cannon, Jr., of Syracuse, N. Y., and Alvin Shenkan, son of Rotarian Emanuel Shenkan of this city.

GROVE CITY, Nov. 6.—Attorneys for Ralph Ziccardi, local mine operator convicted of killing William Hoffman and Arthur Coast in an altercation at a mine near here two years ago, have filed application with the State Board of Pardons for commutation of his sentence. Local friends are circulating petitions, and hope to have 1,000 signatures in Grove City within ten days.

Ziccardi, whose case attracted considerable attention in Mercer and Venango counties, has been in the penitentiary since August, 1932. He was sentenced to serve from 6 to 12 years for second degree murder, from 3 to 6 years for manslaughter, and from one to 3 years for felonious assault, the sentences to run concurrently.

Pleading guilty to killing Hoffman and Coast, and wounding a third man, Ziccardi gave himself up to officers immediately after the fight at the mine, and he entered a plea of self-defense at the trial held in Franklin.

The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, guardian of Ada List, minor daughter of the late Albert List, of Bessemer, has been authorized to pay Benjamin List, with whom she lives, $60 for school expenses.

The case of Attorney Gilbert E. Long, trustee in bankruptcy of Samuel Klafter against Samuel and Bertha Klafter, was argued before Judges Hildebrand and Chambers yesterday on a motion of plaintiff for a new trial. The case grew out of the transfer of a property by Klafter to his wife, following the closing of a Youngstown bank in which Klafter held $10,000 worth of stock. The verdict, in the case was in favor of Klafter.

In the estate of Joseph Levin, 17, for whom the Union Trust Company is guardian, a petition for an allowance for school expenses has been granted. Joseph is a son of the late Samuel Levin.

Viewers appointed in the case of Frank A. Palmer, of Shenango township, have presented a petition in court, asking that an extension of time be granted for filing a report. The petition stated that the county commissioners are trying to negotiate a settlement. Palmer wants damages for land taken from his property near Cascade Park when the road was graded.

The Peoples Savings and Trust Company, appointed trustee in the estate of the late Luther H. Sample on June 23, 1931, has presented a petition, asking to be relieved of the appointment on account of certain regulations of the banking department.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand has set

November 26 for divorce court hearings. He and Judge James A. Chambers will hear the petitions. To be heard, cases must be filed at least ten days before the time set for divorce court.

The law library committee, W. J. Moffatt, president, and Charles Matthews, secretary, have presented a petition to court asking that the county commissioners be directed to pay $2,500 to the law library. This sum, it was stated, is necessary for the payment of books already purchased or about to be purchased. It is in addition to $483.97 now in the law library fund. The petition was granted.

The Home Owners Loan Corporation records 48 mortgages amounting to a little over $106,557 during

Will Gather In Ambridge Saturday

La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, Voiture Locale No. 739, of Beaver County, will be the host to visiting Voyageurs on November 10, at Ambridge, Pa. The parade committee of the Forty and Eight, in conjunction with the Armistice Day committee, of Ambridge, have arranged for a parade, show, and lunch, for all who attend.

Veterans belonging to this organization, the fun makers of the American Legion, will be present from many surrounding districts, including some from New Castle. The Forty and Eight parade is an annual event in Beaver county, and is held the day previous to the Armistice Day celebration, which will be observed in the Beaver Valley on Monday, November 12.

War In Every Quarter

"I've come direct from Europe and I've found there is evidence of war in every quarter," Mr. Ramsey told the clubmen. "Everyone is talking peace and preparing for war."

Of Hitler the speaker later said: "Personally, I think he's a political spasm. He'll probably die in convulsions some day. And you know he's throwing some nasty fits these days."

For half an hour after finishing his prepared address Mr. Ramsey answered a barrage of questions fired by his listeners.

Guests for the day included Rotarian Bert Stevenson, of San Juan, Puerto Rico, here for his annual visit; Rotarian M. Cannon, Jr., of Syracuse, N. Y., and Alvin Shenkan, son of Rotarian Emanuel Shenkan of this city.

Piccards Went Up

Piccards Were Considerably
Under Record Set By Settle And Fordney

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Professor and Mrs. Jean Piccard, stratosphere balloonists, reached an official altitude of 57,579 feet on their recent ascension, the National Aeromatic Association announced today.

This mark was considerably lower than the world's record of 61,236 feet, held by Settle and Fordney.

The devotional period, conducted by Dr. C. H. Heaton, was followed by a business session presided over by the president, Dr. G. S. Bennett.

Union Thanksgiving service, in which the downtown and Northside churches will participate: Dr. C. H. Heaton, Dr. N. A. White, Dr. C. B. Wingerd.

The program committee announced that for the next meeting, on November 19, Police matron, Mrs. Minnie McKibben, will be present and give a talk on some phase of her work.

Thru the courtesy of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce the Association has been warned regarding certain parties that are selling "Go to Church" stamps. This is a racket that has been worked in other cities of Pennsylvania, and the association desires to protect the various church societies from these out of town promoters. Details of this matter can be had from the secretary or the Chamber of Commerce.

Commutation Of Sentence Asked

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Nov. 6.—Attorneys for Ralph Ziccardi, local mine operator, convicted of killing William Hoffman and Arthur Coast in an altercation at a mine here two weeks ago, have filed application with the State Board of Parcels for commutation of his sentence. Local friends are circulating petitions, and hope to have 1,000 signatures in Grove City within ten days.

Ziccardi, whose case attracted considerable attention in Mercer and Venango counties, has been in the penitentiary since August, 1932. He was sentenced to serve from 6 to 12 years for second degree murder, from 3 to 6 years for manslaughter, and from one to 3 years for felonious assault; the sentences to run concurrently.

Pleading guilty to killing Hoffman and Coast, and wounding a third man, Ziccardi gave himself up to officers immediately after the fight at the mine, and he entered a plea of self-defense at the trial held in Franklin.

WIDESPREAD HUNT FOR MISSING NEW YORK GIRL

High School Girl Missing For Week

Disappeared After Hallowe'en Party—May Be Kidnap Victim

ADOPTED DAUGHTER OF WEALTHY MAN

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 6—Thought to be the victim of either an organized kidnap ring or a madman, pretty Jane Merrell, 14 year old Forest Hills high school student, today was the object of one of the most widespread police hunts in a metropolitan history.

The girl, an adopted daughter of a wealthy realty owner, disappeared on Hallowe'en while garbed in a masquerade costume which she had worn at a party for 20 of her young friends in her home.

Kept Disappearance Secret

For four days police kept the news of her disappearance a secret, but when an intensive hunt had failed to uncover a single clue as to her whereabouts the girl's absence was made known.

Merrill told the police that at the conclusion of the Hallowe'en party in his home, Jane and her friends decided to make a round of visits to other homes in the neighborhood in accordance with Hallowe'en custom. Her friends, impatient, went on ahead and she to join them at the first stop.

She was not seen again after leaving the house.

Report Girl Home

New York, Nov. 6—Fourteen-year-old Jane Merrell, object of a city-wide search since her disappearance in Ragamuffin costume on Hallowe'en, was back at her home today after being found, according to reports, on 79th street between Second and Third avenues.

A mysterious ban of details of her return was clamped down by police who declined to vouchsafe any information concerning her whereabouts during the five-day search. It was stated only that she had been found by Detective Edward Collins.

After questioning by police, Jane was taken to the home of her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Merrell, in Forest Hills.

Business Meeting Will Be Held In Connection With In-gathering Thursday

Mrs. W. E. Ferver, president of the New Castle Needlework Guild, announces a business meeting of the presidents of the various sections for 11 a.m. Thursday in the Castleton Hotel.

At 9 a.m. the presidents will bring their donations of new garments to the hotel where they will be arranged on display tables in the ball room so that any one interested may drop in and see the splendid work the Guild is doing.

There will be an election of officers at the business session, reports will be given and plans discussed for next year, after which the articles of clothing will be distributed to the various organizations for which they are intended.

Mrs. Ferver also asks the "garment" members to get in their contributions early in order to facilitate the work.

Hospital Expresses Gratitude For Aid

Through the columns of The News, officials of the New Castle hospital thank the various committees and New Castle residents whose generosity was responsible for the marked success of the annual in-gathering of food stuffs campaign held a few weeks ago.

On Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the New Castle hospital, different committees in charge of the campaign will meet for the purpose of giving reports in regards to the food shower.

35,000,000 Will Vote. Important Issue In Florida.

Never Pay The U. S. A. Earth Surgery Some Day.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THIS IS an important election year. Thirty to thirty-five million voters will vote for thirty-four United States Senators, thirty-three governors and four hundred and thirty-two members of the House of Representatives in forty-seven states, Maine having already voted.

Before the elections forty-nine million citizens registered, only one million less than two years ago when Mr. Roosevelt was running against Mr. Hoover, but five million more than registered in 1928, when Mr. Hoover was elected. Such heavy registration shows unusual interest in politics.

By Wednesday you will know what the voters think they want, although you will not know why more than the ten millions that registered did not take the trouble to vote. That is a secret of the American character.

IN THIS election Florida has been much interested in the vote for a constitutional amendment expected to take a large part of the moving picture industry from Hollywood to Florida.

This amendment would exempt from all taxation of every kind any moving picture enterprise in Florida for the next fifteen years, no taxes on payroll, personal property, real estate profits, or anything.

FLORIDA HAS in hand a much more important proposition, one that will mean infinitely more to Florida's prosperity and sets a good example for other states. It is the proposition to exempt from taxation homes not exceeding a certain reasonable amount in value.

Tax-exempt homes of modest value would enable a father and mother to be sure of raising a family without having the roof and the rest of the house taken away by tax collectors.

THERE ARE no taxes on churches. Buildings in which the souls of men are saved should not be taxed.

There are no taxes on orphan asylums or schools not operated for profit in which children are educated.

Could there be anything more idiotic than taxing heavily, far more heavily than the rich man's house, in proportion to value, the home in which a father and mother raise a family of children?

Would the founder of Christianity who said "Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not" have approved of taxation on the house in which the father and mother of these children work to bring them up for the benefit of the state? Is anything more sacred, even the church, orphan asylum or school, than the protection, care and raising of children?

Every Florida man and woman voting to exempt modest homes from taxation will have cast a vote for civilization and human decency.

The announcement that a man may live, work and spend his accumulations in a modest home in Florida, free from taxation, will do more to develop that state in population and prosperity than anything else that could possibly happen.

YOU REMEMBER, it is not long ago, how eagerly American financiers were lending to anybody in Europe, Asia, Africa or South America that would borrow.

Among other sums lent, eight thousand million marks about two billions of dollars, were sent in private, long and medium term loans to Germany, interest of these loans amounting to five hundred million marks, about one hundred and twenty-five million dollars a year.

Germany at first announced that it would pay only forty per cent of the interest on this loan. Now it announces that it will not pay anything, interest or principal.

ON THE DAWES and Young loans, representing our national loans to Germany, all payments were stopped, some time ago.

Whatever you do, DON'T PAY THE UNITED STATES seems to be the established European policy.

Germany's recently announced intention to pay monies borrowed in England makes the motto the more interesting. The "no payment" affects the United States only.

Germany, dissatisfied with the quantity of goods the United States buys from Germany, hopes the "no pay" policy will compel larger purchases.

Perhaps President Roosevelt will find some adequate reply to this German announcement. Grover Cleveland would have found a reply.

IN SLIGHT harmless earthquakes in the state of Washington, nobody was hurt, a few pictures rattled on the walls.

The learned G. E. Goodspeed, professor of geology, says "there is a big fault" running north and south at a place where old Mount St. Helens with a more recent geological formation of cascade mountain rock.

The rock settles at the "fault," shakes the earth, produces the earthquake. Fortunately Washington has deep alluvial soil that takes up the shock.

Perhaps in the millions of years ahead of us science will engage in "earth surgery," cutting out the earthquake-producing "faults" as dentists operate on teeth or tree surgeon on trees. Control of the sea, the earth and its climate have hardly begun.

If you will risk six cents to discover the safe, pleasant action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, we believe bowel worries will be over for your household.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing Czech, Italian, some with eleventh century dates.

A hunter digging a hole in the forest to set a bear trap found the treasure near Lake Ladoga. It may have belonged to merchants afraid of bandits.

Such treasures are found frequently near the Baltic. An ancient German law to which Goethe refers in the second part of Faust permits the farmer to keep for himself all treasure turned over by his plow. If found otherwise it belonged to the ruler of the state.

The idea of the plow was to persuade farmers to plow deep, increasing fertility, more important to the nation's wealth than any buried treasure.

Tiny Baby Shows Excellent Progress

Baby Born Sept. 29, Weighing Two Pounds And Six Ounces Gains Steadily

One of the smallest babies born in New Castle in some years and, incidentally, the youngest patient in the New Castle hospital, is Fred Benninghoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Benninghoff, 101 West Wallace avenue, who weighed two pounds and six ounces on Saturday morning, September 29, the date of his birth.

Five hours after his birth, the infant became a patient in the New Castle hospital. Since then, he has spent the first 39 days of his life in an attractive incubator in the maternity department of the institution.

He will be kept in this for the next four or five weeks, the attending physician stated. This morning the infant was placed on a scale and tipped the beams at three pounds and two ounces.

The baby fed daily through an infant feeder. Medical men of the city and vicinity are watching with interest this unusual case. The attending physician stated today that due to the scientific improvement of medical science, during the past few years, the baby has a normal chance for life. The painstaking efforts of attendants of the hospital has been an aid to the continual growth of the child.

Needlework Guild To Name Officers

Business Meeting Will Be Held In Connection With In-gathering Thursday

Mrs. W. E. Ferver, president of the New Castle Needlework Guild, announces business meeting of the presidents of the various sections for 11 a. m. Thursday in the Castleton Hotel.

At 9 a. m., the presidents will bring their donations of new garments to the hotel where they will be arranged on display tables in the ball room so that any one interested may drop in and see the splendid work the Guild is doing.

There will be an election of officers at the business session. Reports will be given and plans discussed for next year, after which the articles of clothing will be distributed to the various organizations for which they are intended.

Mrs. Ferver also asks the "garment" members to get in their contributions early in order to facilitate the work.

Hospital Expresses Gratitude For Aid

Through the columns of The News, officials of the New Castle hospital thank the various committees and New Castle residents whose generosity was responsible for the marked success of the annual in-gathering of food stuffs campaign held a few weeks ago.

On Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the New Castle hospital, different committees in charge of the campaign will meet for the purpose of giving reports in regards to the food shower.

35,000,000 Will Vote.

Important Issue In Florida.

Never Pay The U. S. A. Earth Surgery Some Day.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THIS IS an important election year. Thirty to thirty-five million voters will vote for thirty-four United States Senators, thirty-three governors and four hundred and thirty-two members of the House of Representatives in forty-seven states. Maine having already voted.

Before the elections forty-nine million citizens registered, only one million less than two years ago when Mr. Roosevelt was running against Mr. Hoover, but five million more than registered in 1928, when Mr. Hoover was elected. Such heavy registration shows unusual interest in politics.

By Wednesday you will know what the voters think they want, although you will not know why more than the ten millions that registered did not take the trouble to vote. That is secret of the American character.

IN THIS election Florida has been much interested in the vote for a constitutional amendment expected to take large part of the moving picture industry from Hollywood to Florida.

This amendment would exempt from all taxation of every kind any moving picture enterprise in Florida for the next fifteen years, no taxes on payroll, personal property, real estate profits, or anything.

FLORIDA HAS in hand a much more important proposition, one that will mean infinitely more to Florida's prosperity and sets a good example for other states. It is the proposition to exempt from taxation homes not exceeding a certain reasonable amount in value.

Tax-exempt homes of modest value would enable a father and mother to be sure of raising a family without having the roof and the rest of the house taken away by tax collectors.

THERE ARE no taxes on churches. Buildings in which the souls of men are saved should not be taxed.

There are no taxes on orphan asylums or schools not operated for profit in which children are educated.

Could there be anything more idiotic than taxing heavily, far more heavily than the rich man's house, in proportion to value, the home in which a father and mother raise a family of children?

Would the founders of Christianity who said "Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not" have approved of taxation on the house in which the father and mother of these children work to bring them up for the benefit of the state? Is anything more sacred, even the church, orphan asylum or school, than the protection, care and raising of children?

Every Florida man and woman voting to exempt modest homes from taxation will have cast a vote for civilization and human decency.

The announcement that a man may live, work and spend his accumulations in a modest home in Florida, free from taxation, will do more to develop that state in population and prosperity than anything else that could possibly happen.

YOU REMEMBER, it is not long ago, how eagerly American financiers were lending to anybody in Europe, Asia, Africa or South America that would borrow.

Among other sums lent, eight thousand million marks about two billions of dollars, were sent in private, long and medium term loans to Germany, interest of these loans amounting to five hundred million marks, about one hundred and twenty-five million dollars a year.

Germany at first announced that it would pay only forty per cent of the interest on this loan. Now it announces that it will not pay anything, interest or principal.

ON THE DAWES and Young loans, representing our national loans to Germany, all payments were stopped, some time ago.

Whatever you do, DON'T PAY THE UNITED STATES seems to be the established European policy.

Germany's recently announced intention to pay monies borrowed in England makes the motto the most interesting. The "no payment" affects the United States only.

Germany, dissatisfied with the quantity of goods the United States buys from Germany, hopes the "no pay" policy will compel larger purchases.

Perhaps President Roosevelt will find some adequate reply to this German announcement. Grover Cleveland would have found a reply.

IN SLIGHT harmless earthquakes in the state of Washington, nobody was hurt, a few pictures rattled on the walls.

The learned G. E. Goodspeed, professor of geology, says "there is a big fault" running north and south at a place where old Mount Si joins with a more recent geological formation of cascade mountain rock.

The rock settles at the "fault," shakes the earth, produces the earthquake. Fortunately Washington has deep alluvial soil that takes up the shock.

Perhaps in the millions of years ahead of us science will engage in "earth surgery," cutting out the earthquake-producing "faults" as dentists operate on teeth or tree surgeons on trees. Control of the sea, the earth and its climate have hardly begun.

A liquid laxative can be measured. Its action can be thus controlled. If properly made, of such natural laxative elements as senna and cascara, it forms no habit— even in the youngest child. And such a laxative will help the bowels to help themselves.

If you will risk six cents to discover the safe pleasant action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, we believe bowel worries will be over for your household.

A hunter digging a hole in the forest to set a bear trap found the treasure near Lake Ladoga. It may have belonged to merchants afraid of bandits.

Such treasures are found frequently near the Baltic. An ancient German law to which Goethe refers in the second part of Faust permitted the farmer to keep for himself all treasure turned over by his plow if found otherwise it belonged to the ruler of the state.

The idea of the plow was to persuade farmers to plow deep, increasing fertility, more important to the nation's wealth than any buried treasure.

Breadon Trying To Sign Deans

"Dizzy" Modestly Says "Oh, $25,000 Will Be Enough For 1935"

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—Possibility that baseball's greatest brother act, featuring the famous Dean duo, Dizzy and Daffy, might be signed before nightfall for a run of at least another year under the St. Louis Cardinals loomed today.

Dizzy and Daffy, here following their exhibition and vaudeville tour, have had one conference with the Cardinal officials and are expected to have another sometime this morning before the scheduled departure for New York of President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals.

A special meeting of the Cardinal board of directors immediately after the conference was regarded as significant.

Dizzy is insisting he must get at least $25,000 a year but Paul has not as yet set any certain figure.

ACCIDENT VICTIM'S CONDITION WORSE

It was reported at the Jameson Memorial hospital this morning that the condition of Adelbert Hillman, of Fairfield avenue, Pennsylvania railroad conductor, who was injured in a fall, Friday, was slightly worse.

Tax-exempt homes of modest value would enable a father and mother to be sure of raising a family without having the roof and the rest of the house taken away by tax collectors.

Tiny Baby Shows Excellent Progress

Baby Born Sept. 29, Weighing Two Pounds And Six Ounces Gains Steadily

One of the smallest babies born in New Castle in some years and, incidentally, the youngest patient in the New Castle hospital, is Fred Benninghoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Benninghoff, of 101 West Wallace avenue, who weighed two pounds and six ounces on Saturday morning, September 29, the date of his birth.

Five hours after his birth, the infant became a patient in the New Castle hospital. Since then, the baby has spent the first 39 days of his life in an attractive incubator in the maternity department of the institution. He will be kept in this for the next four or five weeks, the attending physician stated. This morning the infant was placed on a scale and tipped the beams at three pounds and two ounces.

The baby fed daily through an infant feeder. Medical men of the city and vicinity are watching with interest this unusual case. The attending physician stated today that due to the scientific improvement of medical science, during the past few years, the baby has a normal chance for life. The painstaking efforts of attendants of the hospital has been an aid to the continual growth of the child.

Eleven Passengers

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—A spectacular one-stop flight from Los Angeles to New York in a high-powered, twin-motor passenger airplane carrying eleven persons will be attempted some time this week by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, famous flier, in an effort to smash the transcontinental record of thirteen hours and two minutes which he established last February.

Rickenbacker said today he hopes to break on a "beeline" from coast to coast in about twelve hours, making one stop at Kansas City for refueling. This will be the first time a passenger plane will make the transcontinental flight with but one stop.

Income Tax Ruling Made

Taxpayers Can Deduct
Charitable Gifts From Capital Gains In
Reports

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The supreme court today ruled that taxpayers can deduct charitable gifts from capital gains in making their income tax returns.

Three cases involving the question were before the court on appeal of the government, all from the second circuit court of appeals in New York. The government sought to compel taxpayers to use the maximum 15 per cent charitable deduction allowed by law only against ordinary net income, excluding capital gains taxes at a different rate.

SCAVERGER HUNT
A scavenger hunt Friday evening sent twenty nine members of the local Young People's Christian Union scurrying to various parts of the village in search of numerous oddities. The hunters met first at the United Presbyterian church. Lists were distributed and the young people started out for such things as an almanac, horse hair, false teeth, gold fish, tom cat, large yellow button etc. A number of the hunters were successful in getting all the required objects. At late hour a delicious lunch was served at the church, thus completing a most delightful evening. The committee in charge of the above event consisted of Dolly Bait and Sarah Thompson.

Rickenbacker Plans New Hop

Will Make One-Stop Flight Across Continent With Eleven Passengers

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—A spectacular one-stop flight from Los Angeles to New York in a high-powered, twin-motor passenger airplane carrying eleven persons will be attempted some time this week by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, famous flyer, in an effort to smash the transcontinental record of thirteen hours and two minutes which he established last February.

Rickenbacker said today he hopes to streak on a "bee line" from coast to coast in about twelve hours, making one stop at Kansas City for refueling.

This will be the first time a passenger plane will make the transcontinental flight with but one stop.

The largest planting was made by the Hanover Municipal Water Works with 160,000 seedlings and transplants. Following closely was the City of Franklin which planted 140,000.

"For watersheds," Mr. Meek continued, "evergreens are preferred as the needles are not likely to accumulate in the water. Experience has shown that red, white, pitch, Banks, and Scotch pines are preferable and can be planted anywhere in the State with reasonable assurance of success."

Seedlings for reforestation purposes may be purchased from the Department of Forests and Waters at $2 per thousand, and transplants at $5 per thousand.

Income Tax Ruling Made

Charitable Gifts From Capital Gains In Reports

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The supreme court today ruled that taxpayers can deduct charitable gifts from capital gains in making their income tax returns.

The cases involving the question were before the court on appeal of the government, all from the second circuit court of appeals in New York. The government sought to compel taxpayers to use the maximum 15 per cent charitable deduction allowed by law only against ordinary net income, excluding capital gains taxes at a different rate.

Wealthy taxpayers chiefly are affected. Under the decision the government may lose large sums in taxes.

Japan Denies Islands Are Being Fortified

BY JAMES R. YOUNG

International News Service Staff

Correspondent

(Copyright, 1934, by International News Service)

TOKYO, Nov. 6.—Japan is "fortifying" her mandated islands in the Pacific with factories, and the "gunpowder" stored there is nothing more formidable than sugar, an official spokesman for the Japanese navy told International News Service today.

His half-facetious statement was prompted by renewed charges voiced at Geneva that Japan is strengthening her military and naval position by erecting fortifications on the former German island possessions in the Pacific that were given to her under mandate at the close of the World war.

Ever since the issue was first raised more than a year ago, Japan has steadfastly insisted that she is violating no provisions of the mandate by improving and developing the islands placed under her charge.

The allegations voiced before the League of Nations mandates commission at Geneva that fortifications are being built are naturally of great interest to the United States, as the Japanese islands are close to the Philippines and the American island of Guam.

The Geneva commission has called upon the Japanese government for an official explanation, and it may safely be assumed that Tokyo's formal answer will be identical with the navy office's statement to International News Service—namely that factories do not constitute fortifications and sugar could never be used as gunpowder.

Despite all charges and inferences to the contrary, Japan insists she has never violated the international regulations imposed under the mandates and has never restricted international traffic. The government makes the significant point, however, that all ports in the mandates are not equipped for the entrance and clearance of foreign vessels.

This point may be brought out in answer to the report that an American vessel carrying scientists was not permitted to dock in the Ladrones islands, the group Japan was accused of fortifying before yesterday's session of the league mandate's commission.

Cow On Highway, Auto Is Wrecked

Hromyak Swerves Machine, Plunges Into Pole On Mt. Jackson Road

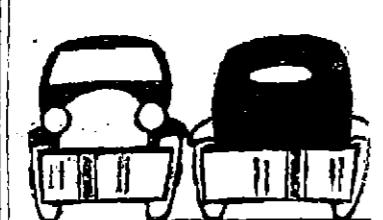

Two automobile accidents in which no persons were injured occurred during the past 24 hours on Lawrence County highways, according to State Highway patrolmen. One of the accidents was caused by a cow which was on the highway.

According to Patowman Stoops, Joseph Hromyak, 105 West Wallace avenue, was driving on the Mt. Jackson road near where a turn is made for Petersburg, O.

He saw a cow on the highway and in an effort to avoid hitting the bovine swerved his car and it struck a telephone pole almost completely ruining his automobile, according to Stoops.

Patrolman Hoyman, reported that Miss Elva Caplan, Wampum, was driving beyond Willow Grove toward Wampum on Route 18 and the lights from the machine of J. A. Mieke, R. D. 8, New Castle, blinded her.

Miss Caplan's car which was ascending the hill and Mieke's auto which was descending the hill, collided. No one was injured.

His half-facetious statement was prompted by renewed charges voiced at Geneva that Japan is strengthening her military and naval position by erecting fortifications on the former German island possessions in the Pacific that were given to her under mandate at the close of the World war.

Ever since the issue was first raised more than a year ago, Japan has steadfastly insisted that she is violating no provisions of the mandate by improving and developing the islands placed under her charge.

The allegations voiced before the League of Nations mandates commission at Geneva that fortifications are being built are naturally of great interest to the United States, as the Japanese islands are close to the Philippines and the American island of Guam.

The Geneva commission has called upon the Japanese government for an official explanation, and it may safely be assumed that Tokyo's formal answer will be identical with the navy office's statement to International News Service—namely that factories do not construct fortifications and sugar could never be used as gunpowder.

Despite all charges and inferences to the contrary, Japan insists she has never violated the international regulations imposed under the mandates and has never restricted international traffic. The government makes the significant point, however, that all ports in the mandates are not equipped for the entrance and clearance of foreign vessels.

This point may be brought out in answer to the report that an American vessel carrying scientists was not permitted to dock in the Ladrones Islands, the group Japan was accused of fortifying before yesterday's session of the League of Nations' commission.

Editor Is Heard At U. C. T. Rally

Recovery Is Businessman's Job, Columbus Man Declares At Dinner

Upon the shoulders of America's businessmen—its salesmen, its merchants and its manufacturers—rests the job of restoring business prosperity to the nation, James G. Daly, Columbus, editor of "Sample Case" national salesmen's magazine, declared before a dinner audience of 60 local members of the United Commercial Travelers at the Elks club last night.

The editor challenged the group to "get together" to form a united front in the drive to restore the economic order as it once was.

Around the dinner tables as Mr. Daly spoke, sat the members of the New Castle Council, No. 408 U. C. T. and guests who came from the New Castle district and other points. Two visiting U. C. T. officers were also present.

Presiding as chairman of the program was Charles A. Brookover past senior councilor of the local group. Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, who delivered a short address, introduced Mr. Daly.

Devoting his message to a timely topic for businessmen, Editor Daly, the supreme junior councilor of the national U. C. T. organization and a leader in its drive to revive business, asserted emphatically that "it's up to businessmen to set the country right again."

Wyatt R. Campbell was chairman of arrangements for the evening.

Editor Daly speaks tonight before a booster rally sponsored by the United Commercial Travelers at Beaver Falls. He also spoke here before a mass meeting of men's Bible class of the city churches at the First M. E. church on "We Like Sheep Have Gone Astray."

W. O. "Red" Williams led the pep singing last night with E. E. Brantstetter as pianist.

Textile Workers Must Be Re-Hired

Textile Strike Cannot End Satisfactorily Until Workers Are Re-Hired

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The textile strike cannot be satisfactorily ended and peace restored to the industry until all workers who left the plants during the strike, and who did not engage in lawless violence, are returned to their former positions.

This announcement was made today by the textile labor relations board, which said that this was a fundamental issue which must be met.

"The board expects the industry to reemploy those who were in the mills before the strike without further delay, and without discrimination," the statement said. "Other important matters concerning the industry demand the attention of the board and should receive it."

The textile strike was terminated in September. In the majority of mills those who went out on strike have been taken back without question, but the board is still receiving numerous complaints that strikers are not being rehired and that many are being evicted from company houses.

Pinchot Urges Contributions To Red Cross

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 6.—An appeal to Pennsylvanians to contribute to the annual Red Cross roll call for funds was issued today by Gov. Gifford Pinchot in a statement pointing out that the organization's responsibilities are even greater now than usual.

"In addition to helping individuals and families, the Red Cross work of service to veterans, public health nursing, home hygiene, first aid, life saving and junior Red Cross must go on," the governor said. "I urge every Pennsylvanian who can possibly do so to contribute to the Red Cross for 1935 so that a great and good work can go on."

The drive for funds is from November 11 to Thanksgiving day.

Pittsburgh Woman Foils Attempt To Kidnap Young Son

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6.—Authorities today were considering the case of a possible kidnapping, foiled last night by Mrs. Morris Rutkin whose 2 year old son might possibly have been the victim of the plot.

Hearing a noise in the baby's nursery while playing cards with friends, Mrs. Rutkin investigated and found a strange man in the room. As she screamed and switched on the lights, the man leaped through the open window and made his escape.

Colleges Charge Too Much Money For Grid Games

Would Have Bigger Crowds At Reduced Prices, Says Davis J. Walsh

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—College football, which is succeeding in not making much money this year in a very furious way, is seriously alarmed, they tell me, by the shortage of sucker money at this time and is wondering just what can be done about it. I don't profess to know what can or will be done about it, only what won't. They won't reduce the price of tickets, this suggestion being in line with that impulsive broad-minded way I have with other people's money.

Nevertheless, the answer is found in the 15,000 to 25,000 crowds where back in the flash era you couldn't get in without a dispensation from Washington, and in the play those dollar seats get back there behind the end zone where you see the ball game strictly on the bias. Even in this case, they're asking too much for too little.

Prices Too High

It isn't that football interest is off. On the contrary, it was never so tremendous as it has been this season, with millions being bet every Saturday in pools and handbooks. But at $3.50 and $4.40 a ticket, it's simpler to read the papers the next morning.

The crowds at both ends of the Pitt Stadium and the acres of empty seats along the sidelines were a rebuke to the management at the recent Pitt-U. S. C. game. Considering its background, it might have sold the place out, if the price was right. The same thing happened, with Columbia and Cornell on Saturday, with only 15,000 in the stands. There's more than 15,000 Columbia men alone on the campus of any given school day.

Empty Seats

On the same afternoon, Harvard and Princeton, re-united after eight years, played to a half-empty stadium. So did Yale and the Army a few weeks ago, with Fordham and Tennessee doing only 25,000 Saturday.

The big ten seems to be having a fair year on the books but the west coast crowds are not what they were, if accounts of the big games out there are credible. Of course, you can't sell U. S. C. on its record this year and California, I suspect, couldn't even be given away. But in the days of the gold rush out there they were asking in August for tickets in November.

Probably the only sections that have not felt the pinch are the south and certain spots in the middle west. The south, for instance, never went for the big money idea. It, therefore, can get a bottle of rubbing alcohol without going to the First National Bank.

King Levinsky To Seek Annulment

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—If King Levinsky, the heavyweight ex-fish peddler, has his way he will get an annulment of his marriage to Roxanne Evelyn Glickman, fan dancer.

Levinsky today had an answer to his wife's suit for divorce on file.

She had charged cruelty and infidelity. The heavyweight charged in his answer that the marriage was part of a conspiracy to exploit his name.

Ralph Miller Shoots Red Fox

Ralph Miller, of Vine street, this city, was the first to bag a fox in this vicinity this year. He is having brought down a red fox on the first day of the season, according to reports received today. He was hunting with Kenneth Smith of Allentown in the vicinity of Slippery Rock. Last hunting season they were hunting together on the first day, and Smith got a fox.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Andrews, Unions Are Deadlocked

Two New Castle Bowling Teams Tied For First Place

ANDREWS HIGH FOR ONE GAME

In the Beaver-Lawrence County Tenpin league there still exists a tie for first place between the Andrews Unions, both from New Castle. The best matches of the week were furnished by the tailenders, the Webbers getting 2752 against West Alliquippa's 2673, both of these totals being high for the past week's bowling. In this match Shafford again was the class of the setto, getting a 644 total, Carl being a second best with 590 for his team. In the first game West Alliquippa tallied 1040 to win its only game, while the Webbers, by rolling three consistent 900 scores, managed to win the odd game. Holcomb with a 591, showed his team-mates the way, followed by Bauer with 566.

The Unions-Ludwig games furnished the most excitement and hair-raising finish when after each team had put a game in the win column the third game ended in a tie, necessitating a roll off in which the visitors won by seven pins, principally due to Minor striking out in the extra frame. For the Unions, Thompson's efforts were noteworthy in that he scored 12 consecutive strikes, they coming, however, in two separate games. His total of 631 was high for the team, Morrow being an able assistant in their wins with a 583. For Ludwig, Merle again showed his teammates the way with a 562 closely followed by Wiles 558 and Martin 542.

The Andrews team won the odd game from the American Legion team with a 2712 against the Legion's 266. Zaborsky with a 608, the best of the match, tried to stave off defeat, but the concerted effort of Merle and McCormick with 593 and 554 respectively were not to be denied. Clark, a newcomer in the Andrews line, got off to a good start with 184.

At Ellwood City, the visiting Beaver Falls Boosters dropped two games to Captain McDonald's Shellers by team, in which the winners in the total score exceeded only by 29 pins. McDonald's 580 was high for the team while Vollmer's 544 was second best. But two double centuries were cracked in the three games, one by McDonald, 216, and the other by Kerstetter, 200.

Over 5,000 Seats

The new Sharon stadium will seat perhaps 5,000 persons. They have a fine new concrete stand and bleachers. Sharon is very proud of the new stadium and hope that they can defeat New Castle for the first time in several years.

The best route to the game from New Castle is to take route 16 through New Wilmington, and West Middlesex to the Mercer-Sharon road at Hickory Corners and turn left toward Sharon. This highway will take you direct to the High school. The stadium is back of the high school. Take the first street passed the school and turn right and go up three streets. This will take you to the main entrance. There is parking space for 200 or 300 cars back of the school.

Bessemer To Play Lowellville High

Class B Champs Prepare For Hard Tussle Next Saturday Afternoon

Bessemer high's valiant grididers who captured the Lawrence County Class B title last Friday, are preparing for their final contest of the season Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, opposing the Lowellville.

The Cement City pig skin chasers will pin their hopes on Franklin Navarro and Alfred Glass, who are among the best football players turned out at Bessemer in some years. Bessemer's line is loaded with power this year. New Brighton is the only eleven boasting of a triumph over Coach Fredericks' combination.

New Castle Will Play At Sharon

"Red Hurricane" Starts Preparing For Invasion Of Sharon Saturday

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team will go to Sharon Saturday for a tussle with the big Orange and Black clad warhorses of Sharon high. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh started practice this afternoon. The squad was given a rest Monday after the hard battle with New Kensington.

New Castle will be rather well crippled up for the game at Sharon with Captain Raskowski, Fleming, Cox, Siritz and Donegan doubtful to see action in the game.

Coach Bridenbaugh will start to build a new team this week. The coach was not well pleased with the 0-0 tie with New Ken high. Sharon will give New Castle a tough engagement at the new spacious Sharon high stadium.

Levinsky today had an answer to his wife's suit for divorce on file. She had charged cruelty and infidelity. The heavyweight charged in his answer that the marriage was part of a conspiracy to exploit his name.

Ralph Miller Shoots Red Fox

Ralph Miller, of Vine street, this city, was the first to bag a fox in this vicinity this year, he having brought down a red fox on the first day of the season, according to reports received today. He was hunting with Kenneth Smith of Aliquippa in the vicinity of Slippery Rock. Last hunting season they were hunting together on the first day, and Smith got a fox.

Andrews, Unions Are Deadlocked

Two New Castle Bowling Teams Tied For First Place

ANDREWS HIGH FOR ONE GAME

In the Beaver-Lawrence County Tenpin league there still exists a tie for first place between the Andrews Unions, both from New Castle. The best matches of the week were furnished by the tailenders, the Webbers getting 2752 against West Aliquippa's 2573, both of these totals being high for the past week's bowling. In this match Shaffalo again was the class of the setto, getting a 644 total, Carl being a second best with 590 for his team. In the first game West Aliquippa totalled 1040 to win its only game, while the Webbers, by rolling three consistent 900 scores, managed to win the odd game. Holcomb with a 591, showed his team-mates the way, followed by Bauer with 566.

The Unions-Ludwig games furnished the most excitement and hair-raising finish when after each team had put a game in the win column the third game ended in a tie, necessitating a roll off in which the visitors won by seven pins, principally due to Minor striking out in the extra frame. For the Unions, Thompson's efforts were noteworthy in that he scored 12 consecutive strikes, they coming, however, in two separate games. His total of 631 was high for the match. Morrow being an able assistant in their wins with a 583. For Ludwig, Merle again showed his teammates the way with a 562, closely followed by Wires 556 and Martin 545.

The Andrews team won the odd game from the American Legion team with a 2712 against the Legion's 2646. Zahorsky with a 608, the best of the match, tried to stave off defeat, but the concerted effort of Piccaro and McCormick with 593 and 584 respectively were not to be denied. Cline, a newcomer in the Andrews lineup, got off to a good start with a 194.

At Ellwood City, the visiting Beaver Falls Boosters dropped two games to Captain McDonald's Shely team, in which the winners in the total score excelled only by 29 pins. McDonald's 580 was high for the match while Vollmer's 544 was second best. But two double centuries were cracked in the three games, one by McDonald, 216, and the other by Kerstatter, 200.

Over 5,000 Seats

The new Sharon stadium will seat perhaps 5,000 persons. They have a fine new concrete stand, and bleachers. Sharon is very proud of the new stadium and hope that they can defeat New Castle for the first time in several years.

The best route to the game from New Castle is to take route 18 through New Wilmington, and West Middlesex to the Mercer-Sharon road at Hickory Corners and turn left toward Sharon. This highway will take you direct to the High school. The stadium is back of the high school. Take the first street passed the school and turn right and go up three streets. This will take you to the main entrance. There is parking space for 200 or 300 cars back of the school.

The starting time of the game is 2:30 o'clock.

Class B Champs Prepare For Hard Tussle Next Saturday Afternoon

Bessemer high's valiant grididers who captured the Lawrence County Class B title last Friday, are preparing for their final contest of the season Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, opposing the Lowellville high eleven on the Bessemer field.

The Cement City big skin chasers will pin their hopes on Frankie Navarro and Alfred Glass, who rate among the best football players turned out at Bessemer in some years. Bessemer's line is loaded with power this year. New Brighton is the only eleven boasting of a triumph over Coach Fredericks' combination.

New Castle Will Play At Sharon

"Red Hurricane" Starts Preparing For Invasion Of Sharon Saturday

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team will go to Sharon Saturday for a tussle with the big Orange and Black clad warriors of Sharon high. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh started practice this afternoon. The squad was given a rest Monday after the hard battle with New Kensington.

New Castle will be rather well crippled up for the game at Sharon, with Captain Raskowski, Fleming, Cox, Siritz and Donegan doubtful to see action in the game.

Coach Bridenbaugh will start to build a new team this week. The coach was not well pleased with the 0-0 tie with New Kent high. Sharon will give New Castle tough engagement at the new spacious Sharon high stadium.

Injured Lions May Play Against Penn

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 6.—Unless more Penn State football players are injured during the coming week of practice, the Nittany Lions should be able to put their most powerful lineup of the season on Franklin Field this Saturday for the University of Pennsylvania game.

In addition to Captain Merrill Morrison, halfback, who has been out of the last three encounters, two the leading ten high average men: Frank Smith and Lee Sunday, should be off the disabled list. Smith is a regular while Sunday is a first line reserve end.

ENTRACHTS TO MEET

The members of the Entrachts young men's basketball team will have a practice session tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Entracht hall with Coach Norman Buckingham directing the rehearsal. It is important that all members of the floor team report tonight. The Entrachts expect to put a winning team on the floor this season.

COACHING

ONE OF MANY — By Jack Sords

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAKER, JR.

QUICK KICKS

The unbeaten and untied list of major football teams has now dwindled to nine, with Army, Dartmouth and Chicago having been eliminated last Saturday. Only Navy, Princeton, Syracuse, Tulane, Alabama, Minnesota, Michigan, Michigan State and Washington remain... Lieutenant-Commander John H. Morris, Jr., football officer at the Naval Academy, was an all-American guard there in 1913 and was line coach in the three following years... Coach Carl Shavely likes his North Carolina football players to be rough and tough but he will not let them swear or drink beer... Minnesota's victory over Michigan was their first on their home field over the Wolverines since 1892... Gil Dobie, Cornell mentor, has coached more undefeated football teams than any coach in the "big time", an even dozen... Julie Besos, captain and end at Southern California, kept in condition during the summer by digging ditches.

When Charles Goodwin, star end of the West Virginia U. team, was a freshman he was too confident to suit. Coach Earle Neale, so the coach made him walk the campus with a sign on his back reading, "I'm Cocky". The next week Goodwin wore a sign of his own design which read, "I'm Still Cocky". Buzz Borries of the Navy has scored ten touchdowns this season and averaged ten points a game... When Detroit and Michigan State play their football game, the Titans will be quiet familiar with the plays of their foe. The entire Detroit team scouted State in the Carnegie Tech game... Although Columbia has an enrollment of 35,000 students, a majority of them are taking post graduate work and are ineligible for football... The Wake Forest college line this year averages 207 pounds and the entire first team averages 199 pounds.

Dick Harlow, coach at Western Maryland, has worked a defense against forward passing that draws the guards back and gives him more men to cover passes than there are receivers... Some of Frank Carideo's Missouri Missouri squad got in shape this summer by carrying equipment to regions infected with mosquitoes... Eugene "Scrappin" Young, the Notre Dame trainer who dashes out on the field to fix up the football team during time-out periods, was formerly a two-miler on the Irish track team... Northwestern has defeated Notre Dame only once since they began playing in 1899. Toots Douglas, who played football for Tennessee and Navy, once made a kick that covered 108 yards... There were some 2,000,000 bricks used in the construction of the Notre Dame stadium. If they were laid end to end they would stretch from the campus to Cleveland, a distance of 300 miles.

When St. Mary's, from away out on the Pacific Coast, played its first game of intercollegiate football it was defeated by the University of California... Football is still considered as the most dangerous sport with polo second and wrestling third... Sewane's football team played Texas, Tulane, Louisiana, Mississippi, and the Texas Aggies on five successive days in 1889 and beat them all... Jim Thorpe scored a total of 198 points for the Carlisle Indians in 1912... Fred Poole, Iowa State punter, averaged 54.4 yards against Iowa, which is one of the best punting records in modern football... Jack Dodd, Nebraska freshman, can kick a football equally well with either foot... To pass the time away on bus rides, a favorite diversion of football players used to be to try and write down, from memory, all the states of the union. Yale players were doing it one day and one of the fellows came out a little better than the others. However, his teammates protested when they learned he had included Southern California and Tulane.

Morris-Harvey Is Next For Crimson

Coach Bill Amos Will Shift Starting Lineup This Week, Not Satisfied

GROVE CITY, Nov. 6.—The Crimson squad went back to pre-season methods today as Coach Bill Amos inaugurated a week of practice in preparation for the Morris-Harvey game Saturday. The daily drills will consist largely of tackling and blocking, for the Grover coach was thoroughly displeased with this type of play in the Saturday's 2-2 deadlock with Westminster.

Monday was a holiday to permit the Crimson grididers to recover from the bruising battle with the Titans, but the pressure was redoubled when the players reported today. Beaten by a weak Allegheny club, and tied by Westminster, the upstate school is still smarting under the sting of that two year old setback and naturally will be pointed to avenge the defeat.

A triumph for either eleven in the Waynesburg-Westminster encounter will add much to their final district standing this year as both clubs have been leaders in minor college ratings in recent seasons.

The game will mark the first appearance in Waynesburg of Westminster's new football mentors, the Gibane brothers and the critical Greene county grid fans are anxious to witness the system of play taught by the two former Brown University stars and to compare it with the original "Krazy Kwilt" system devised by Frank Wolf, the resourceful Waynesburg coach.

Correct this sentence: "It was a clean game," said the coach, "without unnecessary roughness".

YOUNG PIRATES WIN TWO

Young Pirates over the week end won two football games, handing the Mercer All-Stars a 21 to 6 defeat Saturday and the Colored All-Stars 18 to 0 Sunday. Captain Granato played a fine game against both teams. The Young Pirates are out for the city junior champion-ship.

Under Thanksgiving, when the football men will report for indoor work, three evenings will be used each week for basketball practice.

Japan Denies Islands Are Being Fortified

By JAMES R. YOUNG

Service, Inc.)

TOKYO, Nov. 6.—Japan is fortifying her mandated islands in the Pacific with factories, and the "gunpowder" stored there is nothing more formidable than sugar, an official spokesman for the Japanese navy told International News Service today.

His half-facetious statement was prompted by renewed charges voiced at Geneva that Japan is strengthening her military and naval position by erecting fortifications on the former German island possessions in the Pacific that were given to her under mandate at the close of the World War.

Ever since the issue was first raised more than a year ago, Japan has steadfastly insisted that she is violating no provisions of the mandate by improving and developing the islands placed under her charge.

The allegations voiced before the League of Nations' mandates commission at Geneva that fortifications are being built are naturally of great interest to the United States, as the Japanese islands are close to the Philippines and the American island of Guam.

The Geneva commission has called upon the Japanese government for an official explanation, and it may safely be assumed that Tokyo's formal answer will be identical with the navy office's statement to International News Service—namely that factories do not constitute fortifications and sugar could never be used as gunpowder.

Despite all charges and inferences to the contrary, Japan insists she has never violated the international regulations imposed under the mandates and has never restricted international traffic. The government makes the significant point, however, that all ports in the mandates are not equipped for the entrance and clearance of foreign ves-els. This point may be brought out in answer to the report that an American vessel carrying scientists was not permitted to dock in the Ladrones islands, the group Japan was accused of fortifying before yesterday's session of the league visiting U. C. T. officers were also present.

Presiding as chairman of the program was Charles A. Brookover past senior councillor of the local group. Judge R. Lawrence Kildebrand, who delivered a short address, introduced Mr. Day.

Devoting his message to a timely topic for businessmen, Editor Daly, the supreme junior councillor of the national U. C. T. organization, and a leader in its drive to revive business, asserted emphatically that "it's up to business to set the country right again."

Wyatt R. Campbell was chairman of arrangements for the evening.

Editor Daly speaks tonight before a booster rally sponsored by the United Commercial Travelers at Beaver Falls. He also spoke here before a mass meeting of men's Bible classes of the city churches at the First M. E. church on "We Like Sheep Have Gone Astray."

W. O. "Red" Williams led the pep singing last night with E. E. Branstetter as pianist.

According to Patrolman Stoops, Joseph Hromyak, 105 West Wallace avenue, was driving on the Mt. Jackson road near where a turn is made for Petersburg, O.

He saw a cow on the highway and in an effort to avoid hitting the bovine swerved his car and it struck a telephone pole almost completely ruining his automobile, according to Stoops.

Patrolman Hoyman, reported that Miss Elva Capian, Wampum, was driving beyond Willow Grove toward Wampum on Route 18 and the lights from the machine of J. A. Mieke, R. D. 8, New Castle, blinded her.

Miss Capian's car which was ascending the hill and Mieke's auto which was descending the hill, collided. No one was injured.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The textile strike cannot be satisfactorily ended and peace restored to the industry until all workers who left the plants during the strike, and who did not engage in lawless violence, are returned to their former positions.

This announcement was made today by the textile labor relations board, which said that this was a fundamental issue which must be met.

"The board expects the industry to reemploy those who were in the mills before the strike without further delay, and without discrimination," the statement said. "Other important matters concerning the industry demand the attention of the board and should receive it."

The textile strike was terminated in September. In the majority of mills those who went out on strike have been taken back without question but the board is still receiving numerous complaints that strikers are not being rehired and that many are being evicted from company houses.

Pinchot Urges Contributions To Red Cross

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 6.—An appeal to Pennsylvanians to contribute to the annual Red Cross roll call for funds was issued today by Gov. Gifford Pinchot in a statement pointing out that the organization's responsibilities are even greater now than usual.

"In addition to helping individuals and families, the Red Cross work of service to veterans, public health nursing, home hygiene, first aid, life saving, and junior Red Cross must go on," the governor said. "I urge every Pennsylvanian who can possibly do so to contribute to the Red Cross for 1935 so that a great and good work can go on."

The drive for funds is from November 11 to Thanksgiving day.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6.—Authorities today were considering the case of a possible kidnapping, foiled last night by Mrs. Morris Rutkin whose 2 year old son might possibly have been the victim of the plot.

Hearing a noise in the baby's nursery, while playing cards with friends, Mrs. Rutkin investigated and found a strange man in the room. As she screamed and switched on the lights, the man leaped through the open window and made his escape.

Recovery Is Businessman's Job, Columbus Man Declares At Dinner

Upon the shoulders of America's businessmen—its salesmen, its merchants and its manufacturers—rests the job of restoring business prosperity to the nation, James G. Daly, Columbus editor of "Sampic Case," national salesmen's magazine, declared before a dinner audience of 60 local members of the United Commercial Travelers at the Elks Club last night.

The editor challenged the group to "get together" to form a united front in the drive to restore the economic order as it once was.

Around the dinner tables as Mr. Daly spoke, sat the members of the New Castle Council, No. 400, U. C. T. and guests who came from the New Castle district and other points. Two visiting U. C. T. officers were also present.

Presiding as chairman of the program was Charles A. Brookover past senior councillor of the local group.

Japanese Will Renounce Treaty

Both Gubernatorial Candidates In New Jersey Are Former Scribes

Japan's Future Naval Policy Has Already Been Decided Upon, Is Report

(International News Service) LONDON, Nov. 6.—So positive is Japan's intention to denounce the Washington treaty, with its 5-5-3 naval ratio, before the end of this year, that naval authorities in Tokyo have completed technical preparations for the step, it was stated today in a Reuter dispatch from Tokyo.

The impasse brought about in the London preliminary naval conversations by Japan's demands for "equality of security" has brought Japan to the final decision to abrogate the treaty and risk a ship-building race with the United States and Great Britain.

Japan's future naval policy has already been decided upon by naval members of the supreme war council, Reuter's said.

Confirmation of her future policy now awaits only the approval of the emperor's privy council.

Decision of Japan not to renew the Washington treaty, due to expire in 1936, will not affect holding of the 1933 naval conference.

Flynn Flees Again From Home At Erie

Fail To Keep Ex-World War Vet In Home At Erie, State-Wide Hunt Started

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6.—Charles Flynn, 42-year-old World War veteran who was captured here and returned to the Soldiers' and Sailors' hospital last week, escaped three hours after his arrival at the Erie institution, police revealed here today.

New Titusville Mayor Is Named

Charles B. Stegner Becomes Mayor Of Titusville As Mayor Bellen Quits

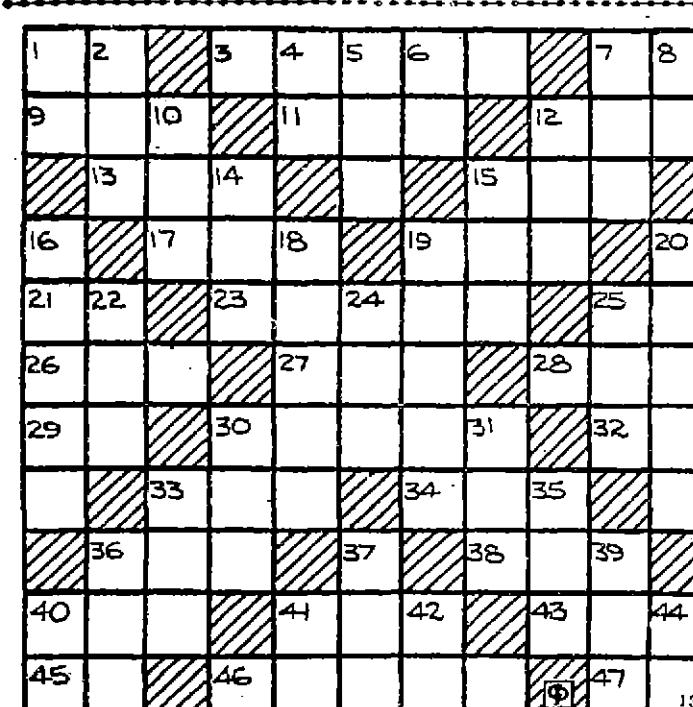

(International News Service) TITUSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 6.—Charles B. Stegner, city solicitor of Titusville, today took up the duties of mayor following his being named by council to succeed Arthur G. Bellen, who resigned the executiveship due to the press of private business.

Bellen, who had served three years as mayor, had been especially active in arranging plans for Titusville's diamond jubilee of oil last August.

Stegner has been city solicitor for seven years.

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor H. Brown, who died recently at Hale, England, entered St. Cuthbert's College at 12 and studied or taught there for 70 years.

Ex-Newspaperman Will Be Governor

Both Gubernatorial Candidates In New Jersey Are Former Scribes

(International News Service) TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—A former newspaperman will be inaugurated governor of New Jersey in Memorial Hall here, Tuesday noon, January 15.

Both William L. Dill, Democratic candidate for governor, and his Republican opponent, Harold G. Hoffman, served as newspaper reporters.

Dill was reporter for the Paterson Evening News before he became private secretary to the late Mayor John Hinckle, uncle of the present mayor of Paterson.

Hoffman served for two years on the editorial staff of the Perth Amboy Evening News before the World War.

Japan's future naval policy has already been decided upon by naval members of the supreme war council, Reuter's said.

Committee Heads For "Club Night" At Y Are Chosen

Gala Event On November 21; To Draft Plans At Meeting Friday

Full plans for "Club Membership Night" which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. here on Wednesday evening, November 21, will be drafted at a meeting of all committee chairmen at the Y on Friday, November 9, at 7:30 p. m. The association's Committee of Twelve is sponsoring the affair.

Committee heads who will supervise the evening's arrangements were announced as follows today:

Dinner committee, Jay G. Rubel, of the Y's Men's club; speakers and program, Al Owens of the Phalanx fraternity; sports events, Dario Baptiste of the Key Men's club; and registration, Ralph Davies and Lawrence Bennett, of the Senior Hi-Y club.

Bringing together the young men of the older Hi-Y clubs, the evening program, the first of its kind to be held here for some time, will attract approximately 200. All departments of the association will be thrown open to the group that night.

Three members of the Committee of Twelve, Attorney James E. Chambers, Paul Gilbert and Bruce Ewing, are in general charge of arrangements.

Milan, Italy, plans to combine its street car system with its new subway project and run the trolleys underground in the heart of the city.

Japanese Will Renounce Treaty

Japan's Future Naval Policy Has Already Been Decided Upon, Is Report

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 6.—So positive is Japan's intention to denounce the Washington treaty, with its 5-5-3 naval ratio, before the end of this year, that naval authorities in Tokyo have completed technical preparations for the step, it was stated today in a Reuter dispatch from Tokyo.

The impasse brought about in the London preliminary naval conversations by Japan's demands for "equality of security" has brought Japan to the final decision to abrogate the treaty and risk ship-building race with the United States and Great Britain.

Japan's future naval policy has already been decided upon by naval members of the supreme war council, Reuter's said.

Confirmation of her future policy now awaits only the approval of the emperor's privy council.

Decision of Japan not to renew the Washington treaty, due to expire in 1936, will not affect holding of the 1933 naval conference.

Ex-Newspaperman Will Be Governor

(International News Service)
 TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—A former newspaperman will be inaugurated governor of New Jersey in Memorial Hall here, Tuesday noon, January 15.

Both William L. Dill, Democratic candidate for governor, and his Republican opponent, Harold G. Hoffmann, served as newspaper reporters.

Dill was reporter for the Paterson Evening News before he became private secretary to the late Mayor John Hinckle, uncle of the present mayor of Paterson.

Hoffmann served for two years on the editorial staff of the Perth Amboy Evening News before the World War.

Fail To Keep Ex-World War Vet In Home At Erie, State-Wide Hunt Started

(International News Service)
 PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6.—Charles Flynn, 42-year-old World War veteran who was captured here and returned to the Soldiers' and Sailors' hospital last week, escaped three hours after his arrival at the Erie institution, police revealed here today.

A state-wide search for the man was started immediately.

Flynn was indicted by the Allegheny county grand jury yesterday on a charge of felonious assault and battery following the alleged shooting of his wife, Helen, in the bedroom of her suburban Dormont home.

Committee heads who will supervise the evening's arrangements were announced as follows today:

Dinner committee, Jay G. Rudolph, of the Y.M.C.A. men's club; speakers and program, Al Owens, of the Phalanx fraternity; sports events, Dario Baptiste, of the Key Men's club, and registration, Ralph Davies and Lawrence Bennett, of the Senior Hi-Y clubs.

Colleges Charge Too Much Money For Grid Games

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—College football, which is succeeding in not making much money this year in a very furious way, is seriously alarmed, they tell me, by the shortage of sucker money at this time and is wondering just what can be done about it. I don't profess to know what can or will be done about it, only what won't. They won't reduce the price of tickets, this suggestion being in line with that impulsively broad-minded way I have with other people's money.

Nevertheless, the answer is found in the 15,000 to 25,000 crowds where back in the flash era you couldn't get in without a dispensation from Washington, and in the play those dollar seats get back there behind the end zone where you see the ball game strictly on the bias. Even in this case, they're asking too much for too little.

Prices Too High

It isn't that football interest is off! On the contrary, it was never so tremendous as it has been this season, with millions being bet every Saturday in pools and handbooks. But at $3.50 and $4.40 a ticket, it's simpler to read the papers the next morning.

The crowds at both ends of the Pitt Stadium and the acres of empty seats along the sidelines were a rebuke to the management at the recent Pitt-U. S. C. game. Considering its background, it might have sold the place out, if the price was right. The same thing happened, with Columbia and Cornell on Saturday, with only 15,000 in the stands. There's more than 15,000 Columbia men alone on the campus of any given school day.

Many Empty Seats

On the same afternoon, Harvard and Princeton, re-united after eight years, played to a half-empty stadium. So did Yale and the Army a few weeks ago, with Fordham and Tennessee doing only 23,000 Saturday.

The big ten seems to be having a fair year on the books but the west coast crowds are not what they were, if accounts of the big games out there are credible. Of course, you can't sell U. S. C. on its record this year and California, I suspect, couldn't even be given away. But in the days of the gold rush out there they were asking in August for tickets in November.

Probably the only sections that have not felt the pinch are the south and certain spots in the middle west. The south, for instance, never went for the big money idea. It, therefore, can get a bottle of rubbing alcohol without going to the First National Bank.

King Levinsky To Seek Annulment

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—If King Levinsky, the heavyweight ex-fish peddler, has his way he will get an annulment of his marriage to Roxanne Evelyn Glickman, fan dancer.

Levinsky today had an answer to his wife's suit for divorce on file. She had charged cruelty and infidelity. The heavyweight charged in his answer that the marriage was part of a conspiracy to exploit his name.

Ralph Miller Shoots Red Fox

Ralph Miller, of Vine street, this city, was the first to bag a fox in this vicinity this year, he having brought down a red fox on the first day of the season, according to reports received today. He was hunting with Kenneth Smith of Aliquippa in the vicinity of Slippery Rock. Last hunting season they were hunting together on the first day, and Smith got a fox.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

ANDREWS HIGH FOR ONE GAME

In the Beaver-Lawrence County Tenpin league there still exists a tie for first place between the Andrews Unions, both from New Castle. The best matches of the week were furnished by the tailenders, the Webbers getting 2762 against West Aliquippa's 2673, both of these totals being high for the past week's bowling. In this match Shafford again was the class of the setto, getting a 644 total, Carl being a second best with 590 for his team. In the first game West Aliquippa tallied 1040 to win its only game, while the Webbers, by rolling three consistent 900 scores, managed to win the odd game. Holcomb with a 581, showed his team-mates the way, followed by Bauer with 566.

The Unions-Ludwig games furnished the most excitement and hair-raising finish when after each team had put a game in the win column the third game ended in a tie, necessitating a roll off in which the visitors won by seven pins, principally due to Minor striking out in the extra frame. For the Unions, Thompson's efforts were noteworthy in that he scored 12 consecutive strikes, they coming, however, in two separate games. His total of 631 was high for the match, Morrow being an able assistant in their wins with a 583. For Ludwig, Merle again showed his teammates the way with a 552, closely followed by Wires 556 and Martin 545.

The Andrews team won the odd game from the American Legion team with a 2712 against the Legion's 2646. Zahorsky with 608, the best of the match, tried to stave off defeat, but the concerted effort of Picarro and McCormick with 593 and 554 respectively were not to be denied. Cline, a newcomer in the Andrews lineup, got off to a good start with a 194.

At Elwood City, the visiting Beaver Falls Boosters dropped two games to Captain McDonald's Shell team, in which the winners in the total score exceeded only by 29 pins. McDonald's 580 was high for the match while Vollmer's 544 was second best. But two double centuries were cracked in the three games, one by McDonald, 215, and the other by Kerschetter, 200.

Over 5,000 Seats
The new Sharon stadium will seat perhaps 5,000 persons. They have a fine new concrete stand, and bleachers. Sharon is very proud of the new stadium and hope that they can defeat New Castle for the first time in several years.

The best route to the game from New Castle is to take route 10 through New Wilmington, and West Middletown to the Mercer-Sharon road at Hickory Corners and turn left toward Sharon. This highway will take you direct to the High school. The stadium is back of the high school. Take the first street passed the school and turn right and go up three streets. This will take you to the main entrance. There is parking space for 200 or 300 cars back of the school.

The starting time of the game is 2:30 o'clock.

Tickets On Sale For Sharon Game

No Reserved Seats At Sharon High Stadium For New Castle Game

Tickets for the New Castle-Sharon football game have been placed on sale at the Sporting Goods Store, it was announced by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today. There are no reserved seats at the Sharon High stadium. The general admission price for adults is 40 cents and for students 25 cents.

The tickets on sale here are general admission tickets. It will save you the necessity of standing in line at Sharon on Saturday waiting to buy tickets. There are perhaps 1,000 tickets on sale here. Student tickets are on sale at the Senior High building.

Bessemer To Play Lowellville High

Class B Champs Prepare For Hard Tussle Next Saturday Afternoon

Bessemer high's valiant grididers who captured the Lawrence County Class B title last Friday, are preparing for their final contest of the season Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, opposing the Lowellville High eleven on the Bessemer field.

The Cement City pig skin chasers will pin their hopes on Frank Navarro and Alfred Glass, who rate among the best football players turned out at Bessemer in some years. Bessemer's line is loaded with power this year. New Brighton is the only eleven boasting of a triumph over Coach Fredericks' combination.

New Castle Will Play At Sharon

"Red Hurricane" Starts Preparing For Invasion Of Sharon Saturday

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team will go to Sharon Saturday for a classic with the big Orange and Black clad war-riors of Sharon high. Coach Phil Brindenbaugh started practice this afternoon. The squad was given a rest Monday after the hard battle with New Kensington.

New Castle will be rather well crippled up for the game at Sharon with Captain Raskowski, Fleming Cox, Siritz and Donegan doubtful to see action in the game. Coach Brindenbaugh will start a new team this week. The coach was not well pleased with the 0-0 tie with New Kent high. Sharon will give New Castle a tough engagement at the new spacious Sharon high stadium.

Shenango-Union To Play Friday

Union High Will Go To Shenango High Field For Game Friday Afternoon

Shenango high football team and Union high grididers will battle it out Friday afternoon for second place in the county championship race. Both teams have lost to Bessemer high which leaves the Fredericks coached team the title-holders. The game at Shenango will start at 3 o'clock.

Coach Davey Boyd is drilling the Unites hard this week in preparation for the game, and Coach Eddie Raney is also giving Shenango a lot of attention this week.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 6.—Unless more Penn State football players are injured during the coming week of practice, the Nittany Lions should be able to put their most powerful lineup of the season on Franklin Field this Saturday for the University of Pennsylvania game.

Japanese Will Renounce Treaty

Japan's Future Naval Policy Has Already Been Decided Upon, Is Report

(International News Service) LONDON, Nov. 6.—So positive is Japan's intention to denounce the Washington treaty with its 5-5-3 naval ratio, before the end of this year, that naval authorities in Tokyo have completed technical preparations for the step. It was stated today in a Reuter dispatch from Tokyo.

The impasse brought about in the London preliminary naval conversations by Japan's demands for "equality of security" has brought Japan to the final decision to abrogate the treaty and risk a ship-building race with the United States and Great Britain.

Japan's future naval policy has already been decided upon by naval members of the supreme war council, Reuter's said.

Confirmation of her future policy now awaits only the approval of the emperor's privy council.

Decision of Japan not to renew the Washington treaty, due to expire in 1939, will not affect holding of the 1933 naval conference.

Flynn Flees Again From Home At Erie

Fail To Keep Ex-World War Vet In Home At Erie, State-Wide Hunt Started

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6.—Charles Flynn, 42-year-old World war veteran who was captured here and returned to the Soldiers' and Sailors' hospital last week, escaped three hours after his arrival at the Erie institution, police revealed here today.

A stale-wife search for the man was started immediately. Flynn was indicted by the Allegheny county grand jury yesterday on a charge of felonious assault and battery following the alleged shooting of his wife, Helen, in the bedroom of her suburban Dormont home.

New Titusville Mayor Is Named

Charles B. Stegner Becomes Mayor Of Titusville As Mayor Bellen Quits

(International News Service) TITUSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 5.—Charles B. Stegner, city solicitor of Titusville, today took up the duties of mayor following his being named by council to succeed Arthur G. Bellen, who resigned the executiveship due to the press of private business.

Bellen, who had served three years as mayor, had been especially active in arranging plans for Titusville's diamond jubilee of oil last August.

Stegner has been city solicitor for seven years.

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor William H. Brown, who died recently at Hale, England, entered St. Culbert's College at 12 and studied or taught there for 70 years.

Milan, Italy, plans to combine its street car system with its new subway project and run the trolleys underground in the heart of the city.

Gala Event On November 21;

To Draft Plans At Meeting Friday

Committee Heads For "Club Night" At Y Are Chosen

Full plans for "Club Membership Night" which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. here on Wednesday evening, November 21, will be drafted at a meeting of all committee chairmen at the Y on Friday, November 9, at 7:30 p. m. The association's Committee of Twelve is sponsoring the affair.

Committee heads who will supervise the evening's arrangements were announced as follows today:

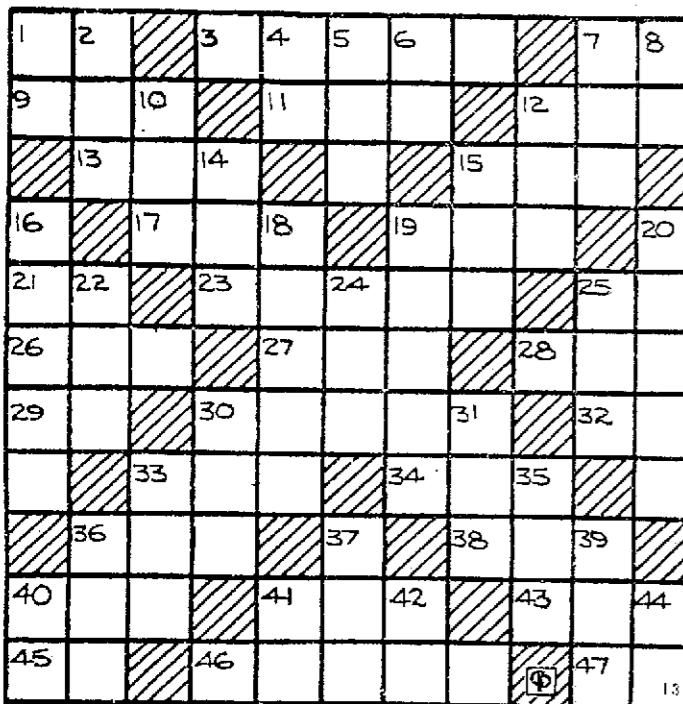

Dinner committee, Jay G. Rudolph, of the Y's Men's club; speakers and program, Al Owens of the Phalanx fraternity; sports events, Dario Baptiste, of the Key Men's club; and registration, Ralph Davies and Lawrence Bennett, of the Senior Hi-Y clubs.

Bringing together the young men of the older Y clubs, the evening program, the first of its kind to be held here for some time, will attract approximately 200. All departments of the association will be thrown open to the group that night.

Three members of the Committee of Twelve, Attorney James E. Chambers, Paul Gilbert and Bruce Ewing, are in general charge of arrangements.

Milan, Italy, plans to combine its street car system with its new subway project and run the trolleys underground in the heart of the city.

Ellwood Plant Will Get New Superintendent

Thomas Patterson, Gary,
Ind., To Succeed J. W.
Offutt At Shelby Tube

MR. OFFUTT WILL TRAVEL FOR COMPANY

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Shelby
Tube Plant of the National Tube Company, Ellwood City will have a new general superintendent in a few days, according to an announcement today.

J. W. Offutt, superintendent of the plant for nearly the past four years, will be succeeded by Thomas Patterson, of Gary, Ind., is the information received here. It is understood that the change is only temporary and that Mr. Offutt will be a traveling agent of the National Tube Company, doing special work among its customers. He is to be connected with the Boston office.

In a conversation with the writer this morning, Mr. Offutt was non-committal as to the plans, although he confirmed the statement in regards to Mr. Patterson. Mr.
Offutt was in conference with Mr.
Patterson practically all morning.
An official statement was expected some time today.

Meeting Held By Hadassah Club

Mrs. Nathan Feldman Is Hosteess To Local Organization
Monday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Members of the Hadassah Club of this city assembled at the home of Mrs.
Nathan Feldman on Wayne avenue last night for their regular session, with an excellent turnout present.

This was the annual membership meeting of the club and several new members were admitted. An interesting program was presented. A feature was a clever sketch in which Mesdames Max Reinhart, Louis
Garrison, Louis Simon, and Ed. Kellar, had important parts. William Jones of this city then rendered a number of vocal selections accompanied by Miss Myrtle Keeler.

A report of the nation convention at Washington, D. C. on last Oct.
14-15 was given later by Mrs. Henry Ellenbogen of Pittsburgh, who was a special guest at the time. A social time and refreshments were then enjoyed. The associate hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Kellar and Mrs. Louis Silverblatt.

The club will meet again on the first Monday in December.

Special Services At Knox Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Special evangelistic services are being held in the Knox Presbyterian church each evening this week. The services open promptly at 7:45 with a song service conducted by the Sunday school superintendent, Joseph Ford.

The services last evening were in charge of Rev. Floyd Barr, D. D. of Beaver Falls and were largely attended despite the inclement weather.
Dr. Barr will also speak this evening and Thursday and Friday evenings.
Rev. Woods of Sharpsville will address the audience on Wednesday evening.

Speakers for the services each evening of next week will be announced on Monday.

Meeting Held By Ellwood District Scouts Monday

Scouting Plans Made At Regular Meeting In City Building Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—An interesting meeting of the Ellwood district, Boy Scouts of America, was held last night in the City Building with Judd C. Turner, county vice-president and district chairman, presiding. Business planned by the Booster committee was taken up as well as old business from the last meeting.

Ralph Main, district commissioner, gave an interesting account of the recent training course held at Camp Thompson and spoke of the new viewpoint it had given the men who attended. He praised the cooking put on by Wilson as well as the persons conducted by the faculty speakers.
Eric Yahn, Cubbing chairman, also spoke of the way in which Scoutmaster McCowin had described it.

General plans for troop extension and strengthening were discussed, and a letter of invitation was ordered prepared, inviting the New Castile Leaders' Club to hold a "ladies' night" at Ellwood some time before the end of the year. This will be transmitted to that body at an early date.

The new charted plan of council organization was given out and explained to the scouts; this showing in general the working of the whole organization.

Dr. A. M. Gigliotti was introduced as a district member and he made some remarks about troop organization among Italian boys. The district is naming a member to complete its committee lineup; the troop organization post being unfilled at present.

If nothing intervenes, the next regular district meeting will be held on Monday evening, December 3.

W. M. S. MEETINGS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Members of the Mary Braeden circle of the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Hepler of Wurtemburg when they gather for the regular meeting. Mrs.
J. E. Caughey will be leader.

Mrs. Thomas Stewart will open her home near Lilyville on Wednesday to members of the Mary Rugh society of the Hickory Knell church of God when they gather for an all-day meeting. A noon dinner will be featured at noon.

Thursday members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley will hold an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Edward Brellock of North Sewickley township. Quilting will be enjoyed during the day with the study period conducted by Mrs. Roy McDowell.

PAST OFFICERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Past officers of the Orange Ladies were the guests of Mrs. Stella Pifer last night. The members enjoyed a cottage dinner at her restaurant.
At the close they went to her home on Sixth street. An informal social evening was enjoyed. A surprise handkerchief shower was held on Mrs.
Stella Baney and Mrs. Ethel Callahan.
The next meeting will be held on the first Monday in December at the home of Mrs. Bement in Ewing Park.

Ellwood Plant Will Get New Superintendent

Thomas Patterson, Gary, Ind., To Succeed J. W. Offutt At Shelby Tube

MR. OFFUTT WILL TRAVEL FOR COMPANY

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Shelby Tube Plant of the National Tube Company, Ellwood City will have a new general superintendent in a few days, according to an announcement today.

J. W. Offutt, superintendent of the plant for nearly the past four years, will be succeeded by Thomas Patterson, of Gary, Ind., the information received here. It is understood that the change is only temporary and that Mr. Offutt will be a traveling agent of the National Tube Company, doing special work among its customers. He is to be connected with the Boston office.

In a conversation with the writer this morning, Mr. Offutt was non-committal as to the plans, although he confirmed the statement in regards to Mr. Patterson. Mr. Offutt was in conference with Mr. Patterson practically all morning. An official statement was expected some time today.

Meeting Held By Hadassah Club

Mrs. Nathan Feldman Is Hostess To Local Organization Monday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Members of the Hadassah club of this city assembled at the home of Mrs. Nathan Feldman on Wayne avenue, last night for their regular session, with an excellent turnout present.

This was the annual membership meeting of the club and several new members were admitted. An interesting program was presented. A feature was a clever sketch in which Mesdames Max Reinhardt, Louis Garson, Louis Simon, and Ed. Kellar, had important parts. William Jones of this city then rendered a number of vocal selections, accompanied by Miss Myrtle Keefer.

A report of the nation convention at Washington, D. C. on last Oct. 14-15 was given later by Mrs. Henry Ellenbogen of Pittsburgh, who was a special guest at the time. A social time and refreshments were then enjoyed. The associate hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Kellar and Mrs. Louis Silverblatt. The club will meet again on the first Monday in December.

Special Services At Knox Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Special evangelistic services are being held in the Knox Presbyterian church each evening this week. The services open promptly at 7:45 with a song service conducted by the Sunday school superintendent, Joseph Ford.

The services last evening were in charge of Rev. Floyd Barr, D. D., of Beaver Falls and were largely attended despite the inclement weather. Dr. Barr will also speak this evening and Thursday and Friday evenings. Rev. Woods of Sharpsville will address the audience on Wednesday evening.

Speakers for the services each evening of next week will be announced on Monday.

Meeting Held By Ellwood District Scouting Monday

Scouting Plans Made At Regular Meeting In City Building Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—An interesting meeting of the Ellwood district, Boy Scouts of America, was held last night in the City Building with Judd C. Turner, county vice-president and district chairman, presiding. Business planned by the Booster committee was taken up as well as old business from the last meeting.

Ralph Main, district commissioner, gave an interesting account of the recent training course held at Camp Thompson and spoke of the new viewpoint it had given the men who attended. He praised the cooking put on by Wilson as well as the periods conducted by the faculty speakers. Erle Yahn, Cubbing chairman, also spoke of the way in which Scoutmaster McCowin had described it.

General plans for troop extension and strengthening were discussed, and a letter of invitation was ordered prepared, inviting the New Castle Leaders' Club to hold a "ladies' night" at Ellwood some time before the end of the year. This will be transmitted to that body at an early date.

The new charted plan of council organization was given out and explained to the scouts; this showing in general the working of the whole organization.

Dr. A. M. Gigliotti was introduced as a district member and he made some remarks about troop organization among Italian boys. The district is naming a member to complete its committee lineup; the troop organization post being unfilled at present.

If nothing intervenes, the next regular district meeting will be held on Monday evening, December 3.

W. M. S. MEETINGS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Members of the Mary Braeden circle of the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Hepler, of Wurtemburg when they gather for the regular meeting. Mrs. J. E. Caughey will be leader.

Mrs. Thomas Stewart will open her home near Lilyville on Wednesday to members of the Mary Rugh society of the Hickory Knell church of God when they gather for an all-day meeting. A tureen dinner will be featured at noon.

Thursday members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley will hold an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Edward Braddock of North Sewickley township. Quilting will be enjoyed during the day with the study period conducted by Mrs. Roy McDaniel.

PAST OFFICERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 6.—Past officers of the Orange Ladies were the guests of Mrs. Stella Pifer last night. The members enjoyed a 7 o'clock chicken dinner at her restaurant. At the close they went to her home on Sixth street. An informal social evening was enjoyed. A surprise handkerchief shower was held on Mrs. Stella Baney and Mrs. Ethel Callahan. The next meeting will be held on the first Monday in December at the home of Mrs. Bemen in Ewing Park.

Instruction

HOPE TO ENROLL MANY MEMBERS

Plans will be completed for the annual Roll Call of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, which opens Sunday, November 11, lasting through Thanksgiving Day, when the annual dinner for the workers in the rural districts of the county will take place Wednesday at the Elks Home, at 6 p. m.

Headed by County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syley, and his assistant, Alex McCready, of New Wilmington, the workers will start their task of enrolling the county residents next week, and will receive their final instructions at the dinner tomorrow evening.

An exceptional program has been arranged for the dinner, which will bring Dr. William DeKlein, medical director of the National Red Cross here to address the workers and the members of the executive committee of the chapter.

The Red Cross is supported in the city by the Community Chest, but depends on the annual Roll Call to enroll members in the district outside the city. This enables the Chapter to carry on its local program, and also assists with the national program of the American Red Cross.

Last year, the Red Cross assisted in 103 disasters through the United States and its possessions, in addition to furnishing assistance to 330,000 veterans or their families, and aiding 30,000 men in the regular service.

Red Cross volunteers made thousands of braille books, whereby the blind are able to read; taught life saving to 72,000 persons; trained 130,000 persons in First Aid; instructed 62,000 women and girls in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick; and many other services.

When you have dry cleaning problems to solve, bring them to our plant office where experience heads of all departments are at your service without obligation.

A complete Dry Cleaning Service for Ladies', Men's and Children's Garments and furnishings, including quick, emergency service, is taken care of in our own plant, one of the largest and finest equipped plants in Pennsylvania.

Our Form Pressing Department has made the biggest hit with Men and Young Men.

One of the pleasures of wearing a new suit is that it fits you well. The maker designed and pressed it to fit your form, but you are responsible for keeping its original shape. All the tailoring, skill and ingenuity that the maker can put into the finest suit can be spoiled by flat pressing and its form fit appearance destroyed.

Thorough Dry Cleaning and 100% Formpress service on our famous battery of ten machines, where each machine is especially designed for every part of your garment, is your guarantee that the smart lines of your suit can be maintained. This cannot be done by ordinary flat pressing.

CALLS ALL-BRAN NATIONAL NATURAL LAXATIVE

Delicious Cereal Checked His Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:

"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation."

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two-tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.
